GA. DICTATOR OPPOSES TEACHERS EQUAL PAY

H.B.A. State Convention A Success

Talmadge Begins His Purge Of Liberal State Officials

Atlanta, July 31— (ANP)— Despite the federal curt decision that Negro the federal court decision that Negro whites, Gov. Eugene Talmadge has apprently decided not only to defy that mandate but to oust any white official who believes in equality of salary.

At the same time, not content with ridding himself of Dean Walter Cocking and four other officials of the University of Georgia system for allegedly advocating the julius Rosenwald Fund, the equality and being identified WITH governor is gunning for all other white educators who have been connected in any way with the fund.

"BROWN AMERICA" POPULAR

It was also indicated that copies of "Brown America" and "Calling America" written by Dr. Edwin R. Embree, president of the fund, may be removed from the libraries of Georgia colleges "because of their race equality doctrines." At the Negro branch of the public library here, "Brown America" is currently the most sought after book.

Talmadge last week wrote the Atlanta Board of Education asking if Atlanta schools participated in any Rosenwald fund grants or fellowships. He also asked the opinion of Supt. Willis Suton on equalizing of teachers' salaries. Dr Sutton incurred the wrath of the governor by supporting Cocking in the public hearing.

Said the Talmadge letter:

EDUCATOR FOR EQUAL PAY

"I am aware of the fact that Dr. Sutton spends most of his time out of Atlanta on lecture tours, and as you know he tried to defend educators tried and found guilty by the board of regents I am interested in knowing just what his interest or yours may be in the Rosenwald fund, and as to whether any of these fund have been used for the above mentioned purposes. If an investigation is in order, I am sure that you will make the same and furnish me with the desired information.

"I am also interested in knowing his attitude toward equalization of Negro and white teachers' salaries, since this seems to be sponsored by the Rosenwald sympathizers too."

The board, in reply denied participating in Rosenwald funds or fellowships and said:

"We have consulted with Dr. Sutton and he has stated that he has never believed and does not now believe equal salaries should be paid white and Negro teachers."

Reverend W. T. Smith Resigns

President sounds gavel for the last time and steps down as president of HBA Lodge No. 245 New Augusta, Miss. on his own accord.

In January Reverend Smith offered his resignation as president and the lodge voted him back in office, but Monday night, July 7, 1941, Reverend Smith held Lodge meeting and stepped down as president. He said his task was too heavy as his other positions and church work kept him busy.

Reverend Smith has headed this lodge as president for 14 years. He was transferred here from Lodge No. 102 in Hattiesburg by the Reverend I C Harper who at that time was General Vice President.

Reverend Smith was pastor of the Good Hope Baptist Church here in New Augusta at that time. He has been a sound leader and a high class gentleman. There was no cause for his resignation other than his time was too full to serve in this capacity.

Reverend Smith said to the lodge as he stepped down, "My desire is that you continue HBA's and love and respect each other and obey whoever you get as president. I have abided by the laws of the order and I am not an HBA for the office of president, but I'm an HBA for a principle. I want you to know I'm gong to live an HBA and die an HBA.

This is not the "Youngs" thing as you so call it, this is our thing. I thank God for men like the Youngs regardless of their denomination, straight forward, fair and honest. It is a task to be a local president but for 14 years I have served untiring and I am not tired now. My hands are too full to give justice to all concerned. May the God of heaven smile upon you brethren and sisters. I trust the president that succeeds me will hold the dignity of the HBA. I'm transferring back to Hattiesburg. My prayer is that you do well. For 14 years I have found

The Word of God

Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path.—Psalm 119:105.

The Words of Jesus: All religious teaching, doctrine or creed, if they are to have any claim upon the love, loyalty and devotion of the people, must be in harmony with the teachings of Jesus the Christ whose words fit into every fold and crevice of the human heart, and of whom it was said in John 7:46, "NEVER MAN SPAKE LIKE THIS MAN."

When Liberty Makes Us Free

By the Late Dr. Charles Stelzle

"Brethren, ye have been called unto liberty; only use not liberty for an occasion to the flesh, but by love serv one another. For all the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this; Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

You can turst any man with all the liberty in the world if he'll base his actions on love toward his neighbor.

You may give him the key to the city and to your home—he'll honor the confidence you have placed in him, and he himself will become a better man because you trust him.

"Democracy" is the keyword that men are conjuring with. But to many of them it simply means "more and more"—for themselve. But true democracy actually means a restriction of liberty for as democracy increases the greater the number of people there are whose interests must be considered and conserved.

But when the people themselves rule and when everyone of us thinks that we're just as good as anyone else, if not a little better—then the question of personal liberty becomes very complicated.

How shall we meet the evils which must inevitably grow out of the democratic form of government?

Someone—I think it was Thomas Carlyle—once said that the cure for "democracy" is more democracy. It certainly isn't less democracy.

But to make democracy "safe", it's going to require something more than mere democracy—it means that we've got to introduce more of the element of love, and the apostle Paul put it into "one word" when he wrote the Galatians: "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

The world's wisdom will never evolve a simpler and more easily workable plan than this.

Sunday School Lesson

PAUL PREACHES FAITH IN CHRIST

Rom. 3:21-31; 5:1, 2; Gal. 3:1—29

Golden Text— As it is written But the righteous sha l live by faith. Rom. 1:17

The Lesson In Its Setting

TIME— The Epistle to the Romans was written about A.D. 60, while the Epistle to the Galatians was written, probably, immediately before it—about A.D. 58 or 59;

PLACE— Both these epistles were written from the city of Corinth, during Paul's third visit there; one to the church at Rome, at this time a city Paul had not seen, and the other to the churches of Galatia.

Romans 3:21. But now apart from the law a righteousness of God hath been manifested, being witnessed by the law and the prophets;

22. Even the righteousnes aof God through faith in Jesus Christ unto all them that believe; for there is no distinction;

23. For all have sinned, and fall short of the glory of God;

24. Being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus:

25. Whom God set forth to be a propitiation, through faith, in his blood, to show his righteousness because of the passing over of the sins done aforetime, in the forbearance of God.

26. For the showing, I say, of his righteousness at this present Season: that he might himself be just, and the justifier of him that hath faith in Jesus.

27. Where then is the glorying? It is excluded.

By what manner of law? of works? Nay: but by a law of faith.

28. We reckon therefore that a man is justified by faith apart from the works of the law.

29. Or is God of Jews only? is he noa the God of Gentiles also? Yes, of Gentiles also:

30 If so be that God is one, and he shall justify the circumcision by faith and the uncircumcision through faith

31. Do we then make the law of none effect through faith? God forbid: nay we establish the law.

Romans 5:1. Being therefore justified by faith. we have peace with God thru our Lord Jesus Christ;

2. Through whom also we have had our access by faith into this grace wherein we stand; and we rejoice in hope of the glory of God.

PLAN FOR AMERICAN SPIRITUAL UNITY PRESENTED BY MRS. J. BORDEN HARRIMAN, FORMER AMERICAN MINISTER TO NORWAY . . . Adoption of courses in appreciation of democracy in all schools throughout the country is urged by the Hon. Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, former American Minister to Norway, shown outlining her plan to Walter S. Mack, Jr., President of Pepsi-Cola Company, at the second annual Walter Mack Job Awards for American Youth luncheon. Mr. Mack created the Job Awards plan which provides training internships for college graduates in especially created positions at home each per year. Mrs. Harriman, urging "positive excitement about the privileges of democracy", also recommended a national festival to encourage artistic and creative talent to express the spirit of America. Following the talk, a committee of judges selected twelve young men and women as this year's Job Award winners from a group of twenty-three sought at New York and over the country.

An Appeal To CME's On The Meridian Dist.

To Clear $45,000 Debt On M. I. College

By Presiding Elder R. L. Young

To the pastors, officers and members of the Meridian District:

I am making an earnest appeal to you to stand by the program as outlined by our leader, Bishop J. H. Moore to clear our college of a long standing debt.

Am sure you have not forgot the earnest appeal made by Bishop Moore in our District Conference held at Collins. You will recall that Bishop Moore told us that the books were open at the First State Bank in Holly Springs to the trustees and ministers to find out for themselves the amont of our indebtedness.

We all feel that the bishop has done his best since he has been in Mississippi and through his effort, with the assistance of others, our school was not foreclosed. Between nine and ten thousand dollars was borrowed in the effort to save the school and the Presiding Elders are being urged to raise a certain amount per district in order that this borrowed money may be paid back, after the close of the District Conferences.

When we shall have paid this amount back, we will have a little more than $36,000.00, including interest that still face us, making a total of more than $45,000.00 to be paid in order that we may be clear of our bonded indebtedness.

It was my good pleasure as Presiding Elder of the Meridian District to go to the First State Bank while in Holly Springs attending the Leadership Training School last week, and the Cashier was very pleased to give me important information with reference to our school debt. He stressed the idea of working hard and in harmony at this particular time.

It should be remembered that $45,000 from one angle is a small amount. If each member in the state would pay about an average of $3.00 per year, the debt would be wiped out, however, it should be remembered that where we have just a few members taking care of their obligations it is a big HILL to climb to pay $45,000.00 and run our school.

President Wm. Frazier is working hard to help us to relieve ourselves of this embarrassing situation. Let us all keep pushing until the goal has been reached.

WORDS WITHOUT MUSIC

By LOUIS REID

Louis Reid

Of all the commonwealths in the Union, the Carolinas are the most dependable as themes of popular melodies. Scarcely a season passes that the songwriters do not pay tribute to the Carolinas. The reason, primarily, is euphonious quality of the name. It ripples off the tongue with just the right number of syllables.

Nearly twenty tunes in the past [illegible] have immortalized the Carolinas. The finest of these, and the most popular, is, of course, "Carolina Moon." Written by Gus Kahn and Ted Burke and sung by Davis several years ago, it is still regularly performed. ASCAP'S files list more than 2,900 performances in 1940. Second in line is "Crying for the Carolines," by Harry Warren and Joe Young, with 1,121. The rest are [illegible] seven cities.

Joe Young
A.S.C.A.P.

Some of the better "Carolina" titles are "Carolina's Calling," "Carolina in the Morning," "It's Sunday Down in Carolina," "Carolina's Day," "Carolina Sunshine" and just "Carolina." There is also "Carolina Rose," to say nothing of "Carolina Stomp." Two numbers have the title, "Carolina Lullaby."

Progress note: Duke Ellington, indigo specialist in indigo music, has found a new way of saying it. "His latest opus is called Laura."

Hearing the "Beautiful Blue Danube" today makes more poignant than ever its reminder of the lorn and gaiety of old Vienna. To adapt the melody to its new environment musicians will probably put it up to a march with military accents of trumpet and drum.

Movie producers would seem to have missed the boat in interpolating "Bei Mir Bist du Schoen" in a picture at this late date. The song's popularity was exhausted, through its repetition, several weeks before the appearance of the film, "Honor and Behave," in which it is featured.

Most Popular "Spiritual"

What is the most popular Negro [illegible] guess "Deep River" you are correct. Year after year its haunting melody is heard more often than any other tune in its class. It rolled up more than 4,000 performances in 1935.

Another great favorite among the "spirituals," but some distance behind is "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," which scored 1,544 performances. In third place was "Go Down Moses" with 1,468 listings.

Surprisingly far down the record was "All God's Chillun Got Shoes." It was outranked substantially by "Nobody Knows the Trouble I've Seen," "Sometimes I Feel Like a Motherless Child," "Steal Away" and the comparatively unfamiliar "Rockin' Jerusalem" and "Little David, Play on Yo' Harp."

Romberg Dissents

The present movement among music publishers to induce composers to write songs not too easily learned or remembered finds no accord with Sigmund Romberg. He meets their challenge with the remark:

"Popular songs should be written for the public and not for music publishers."

Publishers hold that a popular number that can be learned at one hearing, and whistled as one leaves the theatre, is not profitable. Songs are played so much on the radio, they say, that too simple a melody is learned by everybody in a week or so. It is then replaced by another song and the public hasn't bought any of the music.

Romberg, however, believes, and we think he's right, that simple, catchy songs do not die out. He points to frequent revivals of simple melodies—"Mary's Widow Waltz," "Sweet Sue," "The Westerlin' for You," "Dear Little Buttercup" from "Pinafore," "Old Man River."

"Write simple tunes," he says, "and not only will the public pick them up, but they will become standard. As time goes on, people recognize them with a sort of reverence, bring up of memory of the first time they heard them."

A Song Hit From Spain

Latest ditty to crash through the leadership in popular song performance is, believe it or not, of Spanish origin. The exchange of bombs and bullets may have halted the song-writing mules of that unhappy country but it does not deter the more melodic senoritas once the latter seizes them. At least, Mrs. Peter Marie Carron, 1,150 Park Ave., wrote "Ti-Pi-Tin," which today is the rage of America. Both words were fitted to the melody by the American Raymond Leveen. A.S.C.A.P.

C O—Have been going with a man for nearly a year and he wants me to marry him. Should I?

Ans: No—because he is fooling around with a married woman and doesn't intend to give her up. I don't advise you to marry him under these circumstances. Stop going with him in fact.

X X C—I have a man roomer with me and I would like to know if he has T. B.? I reads your column every week.

Ans: Due to the fact that you are running a rooming house, you might ask him to have a medical examination. If there is doubt in your mind you can't afford to keep him there. The doctors can help you, I can't.

A S M—I am going home sometime this summer and I want to know if it would be best for me to stay? My husband is one of those kind of men who don't think women have any right about anything and won't give me any money to do anything with.

Ans: You couldn't stay at home—not with your two children unless you make arrangements to work. Your people will welcome you on a visit but they certainly can't obligate themselves to look out for your children. It's true that your husband isn't very thoughtful, but he does privide a home and enough to eat and if you want some extra money, you will have to make it.

R W—I have been going with a man 11 years. We have both been married and have children. He is very good to me, doesn't run with women and spends nearly all of his time with me. Marriage has never been discussed. Just an understanding between us but I think that we should get married and want to know how to go about it?

Ans: Marriage would be the best thing for both of you. He loves you devotedly and you return this devotion—why not put your cards on the table and let him know that you want to get married and if he doesn't see things this way, you will be forced to find someone else. I am sure that he isn't going to let any one else come between you two.

Worried—I wish to know if we are going to get this home paid for anytime soon. Should I take the trip I am planning?

Ans: Indications are that you and your husband will get the little home paid for within the next two or three years. It means constant economizing in order to get through with these notes Yes, take the trip—the change will do you both good.

H N M—I have been in love with a girl for 5 months and everytime we go out together she tries to make me jealous by talking with other boys. Why does she do this and tell me what I should do?

Ans: Turn the table on her—the next time she begins that stuff you immediately seek out a girl or two and talk to them as if you were sincerely interested. A few times if this will make her hair stand on ends and she will be willing to give up making you jealous.

B D—I have been married only a year and have sweet baby. My life is in torment as my husband says it isn't his and God knows it is. He has told me to give the baby away and I can't see it this way. Tell me what to do?

Ans: Under no circumstances should you part with your baby. Your husband is young and positively ridiculous for making such a statement. If he fails to accept the child—you had better go back home to your people as you would never forgive yourself if you gave up the baby. It's my impression that he not only disapproves of the baby, but You as well. In a few years time he will see things diffrently.

MITCHELL NAMED TO HEAD WORLD CONGRESS

New Meridian Paper Makes Its Bow

Arthur W. Mitchell Is One Of Fifty Famous Personages Named By Look Magazine On World Union

Arthur W. Mitchell

NEW YORK, July 31— Representative Arthur H. Mitchell has been named by Look Magazine as one of fifty famous personages selected by the magazine to head a hypothetical World Union Congress, based on ideas set forth by Clarrence K. Streit, president of Federal Union, Inc., an organization championing a union of the democracies on the same general plan as union of the 42 state.

In the Look issue of July 29, two pages are devoted to Mr. Streit, his five point program to defeat the Axis and establish a United States of the World, and Look's own selection of men qualified to head such a union.

Rep. Mitchell is listed and pictured President Roosevelt, Winston Churchill along with such advanced thinkers as Lord Beaverbrook, Henry Luce Eleanor Roosevelt. Anthony Eden, Duke of Windsor, David Lloyd George, Fiorello LeGuardia, Dorothy Thompson, Cordell Hull and dozens of others who are International greats.

My Visit To The H.B.A. Convention In Meridian July 28-29

By "Johnnie Nick"

It was my good pleasure to be one of those enthusiastic spectators, visiting the H. B. A. Convention held in Meridian, Monday and Tuesday, July 28 and 29. I found it to be an inspiration to be in the midst of the hustling presidents and delegates of the Association It was a greater inspiration just to see the general official staff in action.

I visited the office and there I found four young ladies as busy as bees. Three porters and janitors stirring like hornets to make it pleasant for us.

Out in the hall was cool water running from a big white enamel fountain to quench our thirst.

Again that sermon preached by that man, Reverend J. E. Grace, captivated the audience.

Monday night was talent and getacquainted night and my, my, what a time we had.

FINANCIAL REPORT

Before leaving Meridian I whispered to the secretary to find out how the membership was holding up and he told me that we had the largest membership that we have had in the past four years. He stated that 4,273 members had paid the Convention assessment and I asked him how much money would this amount to and he told me that the financial report for the Convention was $1,709.20.

The largest membership reported in the past four years, according to the secretary's report was 4,249.

Tuesday was a big day "sho nuff." Big speeches and addresses were delivered. Fine reports by Agents Trotter and Kinslow made us shout for joy Then the report of Chaplain Grace, the Vice President. E. F. Young, Jr., and Treasurer R. W Radcliff, made things hum.

SECRETARY'S REPORT

But, my, my, let "Johnnie Nick" tell you something about that report made by the General Secretary. This was the best report that I have ever heard. He went back 25 years and came from an ox cart to an automobile; from pots and pans to high class fans.

His report shows that we have raised $1,250,000.00 since he has been secretary He also reported all notes held by local presidents and members cleared. In fact, he reported only $3,429.09 against the entire association, since the erection of the office building and those notes were held by the General President and General Secretary. Isn't that going some? Do you know that secretary had a real report? The local presidents run over themselves to get a copy at 5c each Each lodge should have a copy.

Then the General President, the old war horse, came out, and let Johnnie Nick tell you one thing, that old man popped to nick and nick to flop.

But let me tell you one thing, when the General Secretary made his report the house went wild and hopped up by the dozens to suspend the regular rule and elect all officers, and that was done without a descenting vote.

Then we went to the banquet table and my, my, children; we went some but no man went more than Johnnie Nick.

The above is the likeness of Mr. Derias Croft, president of H. B. A. Lodge No 176, Chunkey, Miss. Mr Croft will be host to the September Board in his section.

Meridian Progress Being Published In Meridian

On Saturday August 2, a new newspaper, The Meridian Progress made its initial bow to the public. The Progress is an eight page paper with: Attorney J. A. Burns of this city as Editor, Mr D. Talmadge Webster as Business Manager and Prof. W. M. Bracy as Advertising and Circulation Manager. The Weekly Echo welcomes this new periodical among our group. For eighteen years the Echo has been on the firing line, there have been other papers started, however for some cause they ceased to exist. We hope for the Meridian Progress a long life and a glorious success.

Colored Hospital

According to reports in the Meridian Progress a committee of colored citizens has been formed through a new organization known as the "Royal Order of Sons & Daughters of Ham". A hospital for our group is much needed in Meridian and I hope and trust that these organizers will realize that the task before them is great. Let us hope that the foundation is carefully laid so that the beginning of such a movement is not the end of such a movement. We hope that every step that is made will be made with precaution. If this organization is founded on sound and safe basis with dependable men and women we may feel certan that we will get somewhere. If not, however, we will do the folk more harm than good.

September Boards

H. B. A. SEPT. BOARDS

To the presidents of the H B A you are requested to collect $1.25 H. B. A. assessment for September from each member of your lodge and report same in the Board.

Each president is asked to send in immediately a clear description as to how we can get to the meeting place of your Board. If you fail to send it in, the next few days, we will be compelled to cancel the Board that is to meet in your community and send it elsewhere.

Thursday, September 11, W J Rankin, H. B. A. No. 118, Weathersby

Friday, September 12, J M Hall, H. B. A. No. 198, Bond

We re not able to get to Brother W. H. J Weaver of Leakesville; Brother James Patrick of Hattiesburg, Brother B. J. Tatum of Mt. Olive and Brother H. Griffin of Daleville this time. We hope however, that if they desire the December Boards they will get their applications in at once.

So many people want the Board since the H. B. A. is cleaning up now that we cannot get to them as we desire. However, if we do not hear from the above presidents right away as to how to get to their lodges, we will change to some one of the above named presidents.

Education And Negro Business

We present the above as the General Theme for the convention of the National Negro Business League which meets in Memphis, Tennessee, August 27 to 29.

In selecting this subject, members of the Steering Committee were mindful of the fact that at the last conference of Presidents of Negro Land Grant Colleges a similar topic was chosen. It was, therefore, the unanimous thought of the Committee that a continuation of the discussion would provide further exploration into the opportunities for service in the nation's defense program

Further evidence of the appropriateness of the subject is shown in the recent executive order issued by President Roosevelt calling upon defense industries to abolish discrimination In the Employment of Negro skilled workers Thus the problem of integration now gives way to the more serious problem of preparation. And the philosophy of Booker T. Washington of putting "brains and skill into the common occupations of life" assumes a new and virile importance.

Under the stress of the present situation, Tuskegee's third president, Dr. F. D. Patterson warns that "unless some Negroes are trained in the capacity of specialists in technological areas, the Negro people as a whole will remain outside of the main stream of American development."

If Negro Business is to prosper and expand it must have not only capable management, but also a supporting clientele in industrial payrolls or otherwise steadily and gainfully employed

Horace R. Cayton, columnist in the Pittsburgh Courier calls attention to Negro trade unionists as a potential and undeveloped market and is "amazed that this relatively large field" has not

The Word of God

Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path.—Psalm 119:105.

The Words of Jesus: All religious teaching, doctrine or creed, if they are to have any claim upon the love, loyalty and devotion of the people, must be in harmony with the teachings of Jesus the Christ whose words fit into every fold and crevice of the human heart, and of whom it was said in John 7:46, "NEVER MAN SPAKE LIKE THIS MAN."

BEWARE!

By Ruth Taylor

The fence straddlers are at last happy. With the outbreak of the Nazi-Communist war, they can slip off their uncomfortably spiked fences and revert to their true colors. Those of pinkish character can don their masks and robes and slip in among the liberals, saying we always were one with you". Those of the Nazi persuasion can go around with the disgruntled "haves—who—have not—as—much—as—they—had" and say "It's all the fault of thise awful Reds! Let's wage a Holy War against them!"

The manipulators of foreign ideologies never will understand the American temperament. We may be from Missouri and we may have to be shown, but once is enough—we don't have to be shown a second time! The Nazi-Soviet pact and the subsequent love feasts between both groups, their ardent acceptance of each other's policies, the sabotaging of our plants, and the hampering o fdefense work, was all the evidence we needed.

Now when the Nazis come around saying, "We didn't do anything. It was all the Communists" we will not be fooled, and when the Communists come and say, "Help us—we always stood for freedom," we will likewise not be misled.

We shall be deluged with propaganda. Those who a few weeks ago called the Soviet their ally will appeal to us against them on the religious gound, assuming that we have completely forgotten what they themselves have done to Jews, Catholics, and Protestants will come to us appealing for support. Those who called the Nazis Comrades in the name of equality, forgetting how well we know that their idea of equality is that of reducing to a common level, rather than our ideal of democracy of raising to uncommon heights.

Beware these false prophets! Adhere to the line of your belief in democracy and all that it has meant as a workable form of government. Democracy is what we are striving for, and it is All that we are seeking to maintain Make no mistake about that.

The new combat in Euruope has only one meaning for us. It is the slackening before the flood rush. Let us build the levee as high and firm as we can in this short span of time and not be drawn away from this vital task by any alien, self-seeking voices. We have a job to do. Let's stick to It!

Wait On The Lord

By Ruah Taylor

"It isn't our war." Why fight for an undemocratic democracy?" "Get a square deal first— then talk of helping." These phrases beat upon the heart and brain constantly. These enemy slogans are clever, for they sound logical — except for one all important thing.

The all-out struggle to maintain a democratic way of life is not a struggle in which we are asked to help anyone else get what he wants. If we face the facts squarely, we'll have to admit that

JAMES TEACHES CONSISTANT CHRISTIAN LIVING

The Epistle of James

Print: James 1:17-22; 4:13—17; 5:12

Golden Text: — Pure religion and undefiled before our God and Father is to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep one unspotted from the world. James 1:27.

The Lesson In Its Setting

Time— It has been generally understood that the Epistle of James was written before A.D. 51, and, possibly as early as A.D. 45 ,and is thus most probably the earliest of all the writings now included in the New Testament.

Place— Probably in the city of Jerusalem.

James 1:17. Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, coming down from the father of lights, with whom can be no variation, neither shadow that is cast by turning.

18 Of his own will brought us forth by the word of truth, that we should be kind of first—fruits of his creatures

19. Ye know this, my beloved brethren. But let every man be swift to hear slow to speak, slow to wrath:

20. For the wrath of man worketh not the righteousness of God.

21 Where fore putting away all filthiness and overf owing of wickedness, receive with meekness the implanted word, which is able to save your souls.

22. But be doers of the word, and not hearers only, deluding your own selves.

James 2:14. What doth it profit, my brethren, if a man say he hath faith but have not works? can that save him?

15 If a brother or sister be naked in lack of daily bread,

16. And one of you say unto them Go in peace, be ye warmed and filled; and yet ye give them not the things needful to the body; what doth it profit?

17. Even so faith, if it have not works is dead in itself.

James 4:13. Come now, ye that say, To-day or to-morrow we will go into this city and spend a year there, and tarde, and get gain:

14. Whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow. What is your life? for ye are a vapor that appeareth for a little time, and then vanished away.

15. For that ye ought to say, If the Lord will, we shall both live, and do this or that.

16 But now ye glory in your vauntings: all such glorying is evil.

17. To him therefore that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin.

James 5:12. But above all things, my brethren, swear not, neither by the heaven, nor by the earth, nor by any other oath: but let your yea be yea, and your nay, nay; that ye fall not under judgment

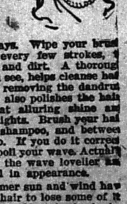
GODEFROY'S Larieuse HAIR COLORING

Maria Downing's BEAUTY AND ROMANCE

SPONSORED BY LARIEUSE BEAUTY BUREAU



The Larieuse Beauty Bureau was established by the Godefroy Manufacturing Company to study methods of preserving women's natural beauty, and to make the fruits of this research available to the public.

Lucky indeed is the girl with lovely hair, although in most cases it isn't luck at all, but the result of proper care. Such care takes a little time and effort, but it pays huge dividends in beauty, for beautiful hair is a woman's most flattering possession.

Summer sun, wind and water are all very fine, up to a point. The problems begin when the hair has had too much of them, and here's where an ounce of prevention is worth many pounds of cure. A simple summer routine for your hair should include brushing, correct shampooing, and protection from the sun.

Grandmother knew what she was about when she brushed her hair systematically every night, counting the strokes as she went. With the coming of marcels and finger-waves, which we thought we had to "protect," the brushing routine was ignored for a time, but today again we recognize the value of frequent brushing. Use a brush with long bristles and a handle that affords a convenient grip. Remember to keep your brush clean—a washing in lukewarm soda does the trick in just a few seconds.

When you begin brushing, massage the scalp gently with the finger tips. Then part the hair in long strands, the parts running from the top of the head to the ear and neck. Brush all of the scalp and brush from the length of the strand toward those, brushing upward and outward always. Wipe your brush on a towel every few strokes, to remove dust and dirt. A thorough brushing, you see, helps cleanse the hair and scalp by removing the dandruff and dust. It also polishes the hair, giving it that alluring shine and glint of highlights. Brush your hair before each shampoo, and between shampoos too. If you do it correctly, it won't spoil your wave. Actually it will make the wave lovelier and more natural in appearance.

If the summer sun and wind have caused your hair to lose some of its natural color, or if you're beginning to find a few too many gray hairs, let a responsible hair coloring help you restore it to its natural beauty. Your hairdresser can give you advice on this, and your favorite dealer can help you with a suggestion.

A little attention to your hair now, and when the new hairstyles come along next fall, you'll be all set to try one of them as your new aid to beauty and romance. Don't make no mistake about it, romance comes to the girls who make the most of their own good looks, and lovely hair is the first weapon of offense against the hearts of men.

What are your beauty problems? Write: Marie Downing, Larieuse Beauty Bureau, 3509 Linden Blvd., St. Louis, Mo., and she will be glad to answer them. Be sure to enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Mrs. Roosevelt Praises Negro Achievements at Hampton Movie Premiere

Mrs. Roosevelt is presented with the first edition of "Swing Low." Left to right: Lorenzo White, who was the narrator during the showing of the Hampton Institute film at Hyde Park; Robert H. Hall, first tenor; George Hamilton, second tenor; Mrs. Roosevelt, Charles H. Flax, Jeremiah Thomas, baritone, and William L. Byrd, bass.

Charles S. Flax presents the "Swing Low" album to Mrs. Roosevelt in the library of the summer White House.

HYDE PARK, N. Y.—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was thanked for her long, devoted interest in the music of Negro Americans last Tuesday when Hampton Institute choir presented a program of spirituals by the Quartette.

Mrs. Roosevelt, in introducing the program, praised the strides being made in all fields by Negroes and told of her experiences in flying recently with Negro pilots. She said that she hoped that there would soon be an executive discrimination order for the armed forces, similar to the President's recent proclamation against discrimination in defense industries. Robert Ogden Purvis, vice-president and treasurer of the college, also spoke.

The picture, produced by Hampton in cooperation with the Harmon Foundation, was directed and photographed by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Garnes who won the 1940 award for the best educational short on 16mm. film. The picture was accompanied by a narrative by Lorenzo White, of the Hampton Institute staff.

Singers from Hampton Institute were among the first to introduce and spread the appreciation of authentic Negro spirituals in the United States. Many of the best known spirituals today were carefully taken down from the lips of Hampton students, who entered school in its early life, and permanently recorded in the school's publication "Religious Folk Songs of the Negro as Sung at Hampton Institute."

Members of the quartette, which began its 56th annual summer tour with last week's Hyde Park performance, are all graduates of Hampton Institute. They are George Hamilton, second tenor; Robert H. Hall, first tenor; Jeremiah Thomas, baritone; and William L. Byrd, bass. Mrs. Thomas, sister-in-law of the group, has been singing with the group since 1916. This year the quartette will be joined and led by Charles H. Flax, one of Hampton's best known alumni who, in his student days, toured Europe with the Hampton Choir. Dorothy Maynor, celebrated soprano, was also a member of the Hampton singing group while a student at Hampton Institute.

WAIT ON THE LORD

Whether we fight with men or munitions, whether we serve in armed forces or at home—we serve, whatever the job may be.

It has been frankly admitted that the Negro is not being treated fairly in the MATTER OF DEFENSE JOBS but the way to change that is not by allowing enemy propaganda to drive a wedge between groups of our people and isolate them from the rest of the nation by arousing bitterness and resentment. Discrimination against minorities is wrong and it has to be changed—but, thank God, in a democracy it is recognized and can be changed.

The Nazis have gone on record as to the slave status to which they would reduce the Negro. The Fascists proved what they would do in their rape of Ethiopia. The Communists claim to give equal staths to Negro and White—but how would the American Negroes—with their keen appreciation and abiding trust in religion, so beautifully expressed in the spirituals that are one of their greatest contributions to American life—fare under a regime that denies the God in whose honor those songs are sung?

Democracy remains the only way out and up—with freedom to progress and to worship according to the dictates of one's own conscience—and for what it may bring to the next generation it is worth all the fight may cost.

Marie Downing BEAUTY AND ROMANCE

SPONSORED BY LARIEUSE BEAUTY BUREAU

The Lariesse Beauty Bureau was established by the Godefroy Manufacturing Company to study methods of preserving women's natural beauty, and to make the results of this research available to the public.

Keeping cool when the thermometer tops the little red tongue up the top figures is something that's all thick about a good deal. But to do it? Well, you'll feel better if you look cool, and there are lots of tricks to make you look cool and as a frosted lemonade! There're beauty tricks which start with soap and water and end with a final dash of flowery cologne. Just be sure as you manage to look fresh and crisp and your best bean tells you so—well, you'll feel better right away!

So, defy old Sol and try a few of these. First, a warm or lukewarm tub or shower. If you prefer the tub, toss in one of the delightful preparations that turn it into a frascant mass of bubbles. It's fun, and soothing. Take your time, and relax every muscle in your body. If you're addicted to firm rubbing with a rough towel in the drying-off process, give that up for summer and blot yourself dry as gently as possible. Next comes the bath powder, and if you use a scented one, choose the same scent as your bath bubbles and your cologne. You don't want to finish up with a mixture of perfumes!

Once you're in fresh, cool clothes, do your make-up carefully. Summer make-up should be lighter than you may use in the cooler months. Very little rouge, a deft hand with the powder, and your gayest lipstick applied sparingly. You want to look as fresh and cool as a flower.

You can help create that illusion of coolness and freshness through a more casual hair-do. Wear your hair a little further off your face, keep it softly curled, rather than in a set and formal coiffure. For the final touch to your hair, wet your fingers with cologne or toilet water and push the curls into place, dampening them very slightly with the fragrant liquid. A little more on the back of your neck and on your wrists, and a dab on your hanky, and you're ready to go. Tie a gay little beau-catcher ribbon in your hair, and you're off for fun and romance.

Just as sure as you look as cool as you can, you'll be a refreshing sight among your sweltering sisters, and that's enough to make you feel as cool as a cucumber.

There, now, don't you feel cooler already?

What are your beauty problems? Write: Marie Downing, Lariesse Beauty Bureau, 3509 Lindell Blvd., St. Louis, Mo., and she will be glad to answer them. Be sure to enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

WORDS WITHOUT MUSIC

By LOUIS REID

Made Features & Photo Syndicate

SEVERAL feminine names have inspired whole musical plays. There is "Martha," There are Victor Herbert's "Ellen," Jerome Kern's "Sally," Rudolf Friml's "Rose Marie," Harry Tierney and Joseph McCarthy's "Irene." Once Broadway shot the works with "Sally, Irene and Mary."

Louis Reid

Foster Showed the Way

It was Stephen Foster who showed the way to songwriting glory by his sentimental use of a feminine name. He paid lasting tribute to Susannah, to Nellie, to Jeanie. Since his time other songwriters have similarly honored Kathleen, Jennie, Genevieve, Rosie, Sally and Adeline in such enduring melodies as "Kathleen Mavourneen," "I'll Take You Home Again Kathleen," "Little Annie Rooney," the fairly recent "Annie Doesn't Live Here Any More," "Sweet Genevieve," "Sweet Rosie O'Grady," "Sally in Our Alley," and, of course, that perennial favorite of many a his more fulsome, more celebrating moods, "Sweet Adeline."

There was the old Usher and Fields song hit, "Rosie, You Are the Rosie," sung by Fay Templeton. Harry von Tilzer wrote his hit song, with his song "Will You Still the Sun Shine, Nellie," Tilzer penned several Nellie's to fame, Eddie Leonard immortalized Ida.

Harry Tierney A.S.C.A.P.

Widest traveled singer is probably Jolie Charles Thomas. He doubles his time in a year between 150 performances that require 40,000 miles of travel, numerous radio appearances and a large number of films with the Rio and Hollywood throughout the country.

More recently musemen have made fame or less glancing bows to Barbara Rosalie, Mary Margie, a personality Lou, Eleanor, Dolly, Dolly. Or was back in the Spanish-American war days the Dolly received her greatest glorification), Katie and Kitty.

Were a poll to be taken of the most popular song concerned with a feminine name I would try to put down a little bet on Harry Armstrong's "Sweet Adeline." Sylvia has inspired greater melody. Genevieve and Kathleen have been responsible for more winsome sentimentality. Dinah and Rosie have exerted a more rhythmic appeal. But Adeline best expresses man's pursuit and temporary acquisition of happiness.

Ball at Last

Songwriters have been a long time getting to Bali. It's hard to understand their delay. Perhaps it's because they hated to leave Hawaii. First tunesmiths to do something for Bali are Harry Warren and Al Dubin. In the movie, "Gold Diggers in Paris," they cause forty Paris to chant "I Wanna Go Bali," though there is no lyrical record that they've ever been there.

The coming of new edition to Tin Pan Alley will be recognized when songwriters say in their songs "I Want to" in place of "I Wanna." Other favorite musical crew of English among songwriters are "Would" and "Wouldn't" for "What Do You," "How'd ja" for "How Do You," "Why'd Ya" for "Why Do You," "Gonna" for "Going To," "Gotta" for "Got to."

Widest traveled singer is probably Jolie Charles Thomas. He doubles his time in a year between 150 performances that require 40,000 miles of travel, numerous radio appearances and a large number of films with the Rio and Hollywood throughout the country.

B S C— I am seriously in love with a young man from out of town who came down to see me Sunday. He says he's awful lonesome and wants me to leave my husband for him. I married young and really didn't love my husband and I want to know if I should leave him and go to this boy as I seem to love him. My husband really doesn't make enough to support me properly.

Ans: Young lady you haven't grown up yet, else you wouldn't be out cheating on your husband. This fellow from out of town was lonesome—but he's home now and that's a different story. Do not depend on leaving your husband for him, for he isn't that interested. If your husband is unable to properly support you, get a job and help bring in the meat yourself.

H L M— Please tell me if it would be best for me to go back to my boss and apologize and ask for my job back? Sometime I feel I'm I am being imposed upon.

Ans: Yes, go back to her and ask for your job. She likes you, and has proven it a number of times and you shouldn't get mad and pout about working an hour overtime occasionally. She pays you well for your services and I would advise you trying to hold on to this job.

H G R— My boy friend has habits that I can't get him to break. We are supposed to get married real soon and do you suppose that he is going to stop these habits or not?

Ans: It's not likely that he will. He's been drinking constantly every since you met him and gambles too. Under the circumstances you would be taking quite a chance to marry him. He also likes to run around with girls and you are too much of a lady to tie yourself down to someone who will only bring you sorrow.

J R— I am planning on taking a trip and I wish to know if I can depend on this person and will he do the things he says he will?

Ans: vacation would do you good, but I don't think that it would be advisable to depend on this person to keep all the promises he has made you. He isn't in a position financially to do all that he says he will. Take the trip, but buy a round trip ticket so you will be sure of a way home.

Doubtful— Please tell me frankly and straight what does this boy think of me. Does he think more of me or my sister? Must I ask him to carry me to dances?

Ans: We the isn't very excited about you or your little "play sister" either. He's teasing you girls. No, don't ask him to take you to dances. It isn't considered a girl's place to ask the boys to take her out. In a few years you will have plenty of dates to go dancing. You and your play sister, shouldn't choose the same beau.

B A K— Tell me what I should do about the little sore that come on me and the knot in my head?

Ans: Go to the doctor. It is most unwise to let the sore stay on your body indefinitely and the doctor can tell you the proper thing to do about the knot on your head.

E B— I wish to know if this man I am going with means me any good? Why does he dodge me or stay hid from me when his pay days come and when it is over with, he will come sneaking back. Please tell me?

Ans: Your case is as plain to see thru as daylight—he just doesn't want to spend any of his money on you. Although after he has spent it all he seems to know where to go get a decent meal. As long as you take him back broke he will costinue to pull the wool over your eyes.

been systematically solicited by Negro business.

The comments quoted all indicate a convergence upon the necessity for a re-valuation of our education from the standpoint of preparation for industrial opportunities and the training for business pursuits which will better enable those thus engaged to visualize all possible markets for growth and expansion and successfully to develop them.

It was with these broad objectives that the convention theme was selected and progressive educators and business men and women will take part in the discussions.

FARMERS OF 2 STATES JOIN IN EDUCATIONAL TOUR

4 Medical Groups Meet In Chicago

Educational Tour Enjoyed By Farmers Of Two Counties

Mr. F. L. Thames, Farm Agent of Lauderdale County, Mississippi and Mr T. R. Agnew of Choctaw County, Alabama carried a group of about seventy farmers and 4-H Club boys on an educational tour to the Gulf Coast, August 5 and 6. The types of farming and the many industrial activities were two very interesting features observed on this trip. After reaching the coast the group enjoyed a few hours of fishing In the Mississippi Sound near Pascagoula.

Howard Medical Dean

Dr. John W. Lawlah, medical director of Chicago's famous Provident hospital recently accepted the post of dean of the Medical College at Howard university. The position—highest in the country for a medical man—takes on added importance when it is realized the new dean is but 36 years old. He has accepted the position according to latest reports.

State News

Mt. Olive, Miss.— Mrs. Allie Mae Reaves of Mount Pleasant Church Collins, Miss. is in the Afro-American hospital in Yazoo City, Miss. Her friends hope for her a speedy recovery

Attended World Congress In Mexico

Bishop James A. Bray of Chicago was one of the twenty-eight Negroes in attendance at the International Congress On Education in Mexico City. Bishop Bray also participated in the Sunday morning services at the El Mesias church Mexico City.

Four Medical Groups Meet Jointly In Chicago

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 7—During the week of August 18 to 22, the Windy City's famous Southside will be host to the 47th annual convention of the National Medical Association and three affiliated bodies: the National Hospital Association the National Insurance Medical Examiners Association and the Women's Auxiliary of the N. M. A.

The three associated organizations will hold separate meetings and will join with the N. M. A. in several combined sessions. The annual convention of doctors, which this year is held in conjuction with the 50th anniversary celebration of Provident Hospital, is divided into four distinct sessions according to the specific interests of the men who will attend, according to Secretary, Dr John T. Givins, Norfulk, Virginia.

The sessions of the National Hospital Association got underway one day earlier than do the other meetings. This group opers on Sunday, August 17, at DuSable high school, headquarters for the Chicago conventions. The insurance examiners will confer on Monday and Tuesday. The N. M. A and its women's auxiliary will meet from Monday thru Friday.

Bennett College

August 12, 1941— The "standing room only" sign has already been hung at Bennett College, the college for women, located in Greensboro, North Carolina

No further applicants who are to be accommodated in residence halls can be accepted for admission to Bennett College for the fall semester, according to the announcement from the office of Miss Willa B. Player, Director of Admission at the college. The quota of students for the year has been filled Applicants, however, who wish to apply for the second semester or for the year beginning September, 1942, may send in applications now to assure admission at a later date.

Bennett College began operation in 1926 as a college for women with ten students in the college department Year by year the enrollment has increased. In 1931 the student body numbered 155; in 1936 it had increased to 310; and for the fall opening 375 have been enrolled.

The number of applications usually run two and one-half to three times the admissions according to the Admission Office. Miss Player also announces the stabilization of the Bennett enrollment at the 375 figure for some years, pending internal curriculum study and changes. Only students who can be accommodated two to a room are being accepted.

Should Joe Louis Retire? 'No!' Says Joe Louis.. And That's That!

New York, Aug. 7— Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis paid promoter Mike Jacobs a pop call last week and made two-cent gamblers out of those spectators who have been pro and conning about whether or not he would quit the ring. Quit? No sireel Joe is definite about that.

"I don't know why anyone shou'd have me retiring now," Joe insisted, "cause I haven't been thinking about retiring Uncle Mike (Mike Jacobs) says he ain't thinking about retiring and he admits being past 60. So if Uncle Mike can go on taking it, I guess I can for a while yet."

That's how the champ feels about it As a matter of fact, the Bomber is itching to get at Billy Conn, Lou Nova or anyone Jacobs can bring him, as long as he gets some action—and quick!

Louis readily admitted that Conn was the No. 1 man among the challengers Lou Nova was rated after Conn. He felt that Conn could beat down Nova "I can be wrong, but that's the way I see it. Conn can take a punch just as well as Nova can, and, as far As I figure my job, Nova is easier for me to hit than Conn. Billy is a better boxer than Lou."

Joe's visit here didn't avail him much information as to his next fight "Uncle Mike just doesn't seem to know him," Joe said, "and it seems he won't know for a few days yet. The sooner he can tell me, the better I'll like it. I won't lose much time getting down to my training camp once I know whether I'm going to fight in New York, Detroit or Chicago."

That about ends the debate on whether or not Joe intends to retire.

FARMERS OF 2 STATES JOIN IN EDUCATIONAL TOUR

4 Medical Groups Meet In Chicago

Educational Tour Enjoyed By Farmers Of Two Counties

Mr. F. L. Thames, Farm Agent of Lauderdale County, Mississippi and Mr T. R. Agnew of Choctaw County, Alabama carried a group of about seventy farmers and 4-H Club boys on an educational tour to the Gulf Coast, August 5 and 6. The types of farming and the many industrial activities were two very interesting features observed on this trip. After reaching the coast the group enjoyed a few hours of fishing In the Mississippi Sound near Pascagoula.

Howard Medical Dean

Dr. John W. Lawlah, medical director of Chicago's famous Provident hospital recently accepted the post of dean of the Medical College at Howard university. The position—highest in the country for a medical man—takes on added importance when it is realized the new dean is but 36 years old. He has accepted the position according to latest reports.

Attended World Congress In Mexico

Bishop James A. Bray of Chicago was one of the twenty-eight Negroes in attendance at the International Congress On Education in Mexico City. Bishop Bray also participated in the Sunday morning services at the El Mesias church Mexico City.

Four Medical Groups Meet Jointly In Chicago

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 7—During the week of August 18 to 22, the Windy City's famous Southside will be host to the 47th annual convention of the National Medical Association and three affiliated bodies: the National Hospital Association the National Insurance Medical Examiners Association and the Women's Auxiliary of the N. M. A.

The three associated organizations will hold separate meetings and will join with the N. M. A. in several combined sessions. The annual convention of doctors, which this year is held in conjunction with the 50th anniversary celebration of Provident Hospital, is divided into four distinct sessions according to the specific interests of the men who will attend, according to Secretary, Dr John T. Givins, Norfulk, Virginia.

The sessions of the National Hospital Association got underway one day earlier than do the other meetings. This group opens on Sunday, August 17, at DuSable high school, headquarters for the Chicago conventions. The insurance examiners will confer on Monday and Tuesday. The N. M. A and its women's auxiliary will meet from Monday thru Friday.

Bennett College

August 12, 1941— The "standing room only" sign has already been hung at Bennett College, the college for women, located in Greensboro, North Carolina

No further applicants who are to be accommodated in residence halls can be accepted for admission to Bennett College for the fall semester, according to the announcement from the office of Miss Willa B. Player, Director of Admission at the college. The quota of students for the year has been filled Applicants, however, who wish to apply for the second semester or for the year beginning September, 1942, may send in applications now to assure admission at a later date.

Bennett College began operation in 1926 as a college for women with ten students in the college department Year by year the enrollment has increased. In 1931 the student body numbered 153; in 1936 it had increased to 310; and for the fall opening 375 have been enrolled.

The number of applications usually run two and one-half to three times the admissions according to the Admission Office. Miss Player also announces the stabilization of the Bennett enrollment at the 375 figure for some years, pending internal curriculum study and changes. Only students who can be accommodated two to a room are being accepted.

Address Langston Grads

Jefferson City, Mo., Aug. 7— Dr. Sherman D Scruggs, president of Lincoln university delivered the commencement address at the Summer School commencement exercises of Langston university Wednesday evening, July 23, at the Langston stadium. The subject of Dr Scrugg's address was "Education of Free Men in American Democracy."

Dr. Scruggs expressed to the 136 graduates assembled in the stadium the hope that as teachers they would "translate subject matter into the essentials of living for life in the American way."

Should Joe Louis Retire? 'No!' Says Joe Louis.. And That's That!

New York, Aug. 7— Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis paid promoter Mike Jacobs a pop call last week and made two-cent gamblers out of those spectators who have been pro and conning about whether or not he would quit the ring. Quit? No sireel Joe is definite about that.

"I don't know why anyone shou'd have me retiring now," Joe insisted, "'cause I haven't been thinking about retiring Uncle Mike (Mike Jacobs) says he ain't thinking about retiring and he admits being past 60. So if Uncle Mike can go on taking it, I guess I can for a while yet."

That's how the champ feels about it As a matter of fact, the Bomber is itching to get at Billy Conn, Lou Nova or anyone Jacobs can bring him, as long as he gets some action—and quick!

Louis readily admitted that Conn was the No. 1 man among the challengers but Nova was rated after Conn. He felt that Conn could beat down Nova "I can be wrong, but that's the way I see it. Conn can take a punch just as well as Nova can, and, as far As I figure my job, Nova is easier for me to hit than Conn. Billy is a better boxer than Lou."

The Great Charter

By Ruth Taylor

One drowsy summer afternoon in England, driving through the quiet countryside down winding country roads fields and little villages clustered around through leaf roofed lanes, past green old stone churches, we came to a meadow beyond which the great waters of the Thames sparkled under the late afternoon sun. My companion stopped the car and said quietly and almost reverently—"This is Runnymede." Instantly I straightened up from my comfortable position in the car, for "Runnymede" deeply stirred my emotions as I thought of what it meant to America and Americans.

Many of the quiet villages through which we had passed are piles of crumbled stones. The grey churches are but masses of rubble—their alters open to the heavens in mute appeal. Today the fields are furrowed to prevent the landing of hostile planes. The roads are barricaded with barbed wire. Today the silver blue ribbon of the Thames is a treacherous guide to the enemy from the sky.

But Runnymede is imperishable to every Britian—and to every American Bombs cannot hurt it nor the devastation of war dim its glory, for there the Magna Charta—the Great Charter of England—was signed. Runnymede was the real cradle of those Anglo Saxon liberties which are our proudest heritage.

More than seven centuries ago on this lush meadow the Great Charter was wrested from King John by the Barons, the Church and the citizens of London acting together. The principal objects of the Charter were to "restrict the power of the King to demand and obtain armed services from nobility and commons; to end the sale, denial and delay of justice; to protect life, liberty and property from arbiary forfeiture and seizure; to pervent the imprisonment of an individual except after due trial and judgment by his peers; and last, but no means least, was a provision pointing twenty-five barons conservators of teh public liberties and granting them the right to war on the King for a violation of the Great Charter." Often misinterpreted, often badly carried out it nevertheless became the basis of the struggle for English liberty from which came the gradual granting of our common law.

Today the Magna Charta rests safely in Washington to remain there for the duration of the war. While it is our guest, as it was our inspiration, let us not forget the great principles for which it stands. It call to us in the name of all those who fought and sacrificed and struggled for the liberties we prize, to support to the best of our ability the fight for freedom and liberty for all men of all races and creeds and color throughout the world.

Labor Day 1941

By Ruth Taylor

September in Europe—what new horror will it unleash? What new nightmare of war will drive hapless, harried people from their homes, sending them scurrying hither and yon in search of shelter from the pitiless conqueror whose bloodlust is never sated?

Here in this land of ours the first days of September will also send people from home—but for a different cause! Here the first Monday in September is set apart for the celebration of Labor Day. In contrast with the panic stricken hordes abroad, here city dwellers will be rushing to the country, shore and mountains for one last golden playtime, a fitting climax to a happy summer while from the countryside and small town, thousands of others will hurry townward to enjoy the pleasures of city life before settling down to the quiet of their calmly ordered lives.

However, this year the celebration of Labor Day is not just a day of recreation. It must also be a day of rededication to a way of life, to a form of government in which each of us has a part and where one of our great holidays has as its purpose to do honor to those who work—to all men and women whose toil and travail has made the country great.

In the days that lie ahead, even if the war be kept from our shores, we will all be mobilized for service in some form or other for the adequate defense of this our country and for that form of government which we hold dear. There will be no room for idlers. We will all serve and gladly. Whether we serve in paitions of prominence or in the humblest capacity we are all laborers, working for the good of the many that the rights and privileges which have been struggled for and won at such a great sacrifice, may be handed down to future generations.

Labor Day 1941 is not a day set apart for any one group. It belongs to all of us whether our work is of brain or hand How we do our appointed task is the important thing—not what that task may be. We cannot see the end from the beginning or what fruit our labor may bear. All we can do is the best of which we capable, working conscientiously and sincerely at the task just before us. It may be great or it may be menial—but it is work to be done—and it is our job to do it well.

We are all laborers in the vineyard of the Lord. And in the end, as in the Parable of the Talents, the reward is "Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

Sunday School Lesson

AUGUST 17

PETER ENCOURAGES SUFFERING CHRISTIANS

1 Peter 4:12-19; 5:6—11

Golden Text— If a mann suffer as a Christian let him not be ashamed: but let him glorify God in this name. I Peter 4:16.

The Lesson In Its Setting

TIME— The first Epistle of Peter was written about A.D. 64.

PLACE— The epistle states (5:13) that it was written from Babylon, but regarding the meaning of the Babylon as here used, commentators greatly disagree. It probably refers to Baby on in the Mesopotamia Valley.

1 Peter 4:12. Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial among you, which cometh upon you to prove you, as though a strange thing happened unto you:

13. But insomuch as ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings, rejoice; that at the reve ation of his glory also ye may rejoice with exceeding joy.

14. If ye are reproached for the name of Christ, blessed are ye; because the Spirit of glory and the Spirit of God resteth upon you.

15. For let none of you suffer as a murderer, or a thief, or an evil doer or as a meddler in other men's matters.

16. But if a man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify God in this name.

17. For the time is come for judgement to begin at the house of God: and if it begin first at us, what shall be the end of them that obey not the gospel of God?

18. And if the righteous is scarcely saved, where shall the ungodly and sinner appear?

19. Wherefore let them also that suffer according to the will of God commit their souls in well-doing unto a faithful Creator.

1 Peter 5:6. Humble yourselve therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time;

7. Casting all our anxiety upon him, because he careth for you.

8. Be sober, be watchful: your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour:

9. Whom withstand stedfast in your faith, knowing that the same sufferings are accompanied in your brethren who are in the world.

10. And the God of all grace, who called you unto his eternal glory in Christ, after that ye have suffered a little while, shall himself perfect, establish and strengthen you.

11. To him be the dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

Today the Magna Charta rests safely in Washington to remain there for the duration of the war. While it is our guest, as it was our inspiration, let us not forget the great principles for which it stands. It call to us in the name of all those who fought and sacrificed and struggled for the liberties we prize, to support to the best of our ability the fight for freedom and liberty for all men of all races and creeds and color throughout the world.

Labor Day 1941

By Ruth Taylor

September in Europe—what new horror will it unleash? What new nightmare of war will drive hapless, harried people from their homes, sending them scurrying hither and yon in search of shelter from the pitiless conqueror whose bloodlust is never sated?

Here in this land of ours the first days of September will also send people from home—but for a different cause! Here the first Monday in September is set apart for the celebration of Labor Day. In contrast with the panic stricken hordes abroad, here city dwellers will be rushing to the country, shore and mountains for one last golden playtime, a fitting climax to a happy summer while from the countryside and small town, thousands of others will hurry townward to enjoy the pleasures of city life before settling down to the quiet of their calmly ordered lives.

However, this year the celebration of Labor Day is not just a day of recreation. It must also be a day of rededication to a way of life, to a form of government in which each of us has a part and where one of our great holidays has as its purpose to do honor to those who work—to all men and women whose toil and travail has made the country great.

In the days that lie ahead, even if the war be kept from our shores, we will all be mobilized for service in some form or other for the adequate defense of this our country and for that form of government which we hold dear. There will be no room for idlers. We will all serve and gladly. Whether we serve in positions of prominence or in the humblest capacity we are all laborers, working for the good of the many that the rights and privileges which have been struggled for and won at such a great sacrifice, may be handed down to future generations.

Labor Day 1941 is not a day set apart for any one group. It belongs to all of us whether our work is of brain or hand How we do our appointed task is the important thing—not what that task may be. We cannot see the end from the beginning or what fruit our labor may bear. All we can do is the best of which we capable, working conscientiously and sincerely at the task just before us. It may be great or it may be menial—but it is work to be done—and it is our job to do it well.

We are all laborers in the vineyard of the Lord. And in the end, as in the Parable of the Talents, the reward is "Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

Sunday School Lesson

AUGUST 17

PETER ENCOURAGES SUFFERING CHRISTIANS

1 Peter 4:12-19; 5:6—11

Golden Text— If a mann suffer as a Christian let him not be ashamed: but let him glorify God in this name. 1 Peter 4:16.

The Lesson In Its Setting

TIME— The first Epistle of Peter was written about A.D. 64.

PLACE— The epistle states (5:13) that it was written from Babylon, but regarding the meaning of the Babylon as here used, commentators greatly disagree. It probably refers to Baby on in the Mesopotamia Valley.

1 Peter 4:12. Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial among you, which cometh upon you to prove you, as though a strange thing happened unto you:

13. But insomuch as ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings, rejoice; that at the reve ation of his glory also ye may rejoice with exceeding joy.

14. If ye are reproached for the name of Christ, blessed are ye; because the Spirit of glory and the Spirit of God resteth upon you.

15. For let none of you suffer as a murderer, or a thief, or an evil doer or as a meddler in other men's matters.

16. But if a man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify God in this name.

17. For the time is come for judgement to begin at the house of God: and if it begin first at us, what shall be the end of them that obey not the gospel of God?

18. And if the righteous is scarcely saved, where shall the ungodly and sinner appear?

19. Wherefore let them also that suffer according to the will of God commit their souls in well-doing unto a faithful Creator.

1 Peter 5:6. Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time;

7. Casting all our anxiety upon him, because he careth for you.

8. Be sober, be watchful: your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour:

9. Whom withstand stedfast in your faith, knowing that the same sufferings are accompanied in your brethren who are in the world.

10. And the God of all grace, who called you unto his eternal glory in Christ, after that ye have suffered a little while, shall himself perfect, establish and strengthen you.

11. To him be the dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

September Boards

H. B. A. SEPT. BOARDS

To the presidents of the H B A you are requested to collect $1.25 H. B. A. assessment for September from each member of your lodge and report same in the Board.

Each president is asked to send in immediately a clear description as to how we can get to the meeting place of your Board. If you fail to send it in, the next few days, we will be compelled to cancel the Board that is to meet in your community and send it elsewhere.

M B P— Will my husband give me up and give me a divorce without any trouble so I can carry out my plans?

Ans: He really wouldn't like to give you up—but if you insist there isn't anything else for him to do. I would like to ask if you are sure of your friend in the Army? Young boys make lots of promises—he is away from you now and will be for many months—don't you think you had better wait and think this problem over some more

M F D— We want to buy a home pretty soon and I wish to know if it would be advisable to buy a place by putting so much down and pay the balance off like we were paying rent?

Ans: By all means do. That is the way the majority of people who own homes get them. As soon as you have enough money ahead for a down payment, pick out your place and make arrangements to buy. I am sure that you will be well pleased by doing so

T M M— Should I just forget about my husband and marry this other boy? Answer soon as I will know what to do?

Ans: Go back home to your husband This boy liked you alright but he was not going to take you and your baby too. Your husband wants you and the baby back with him and I think you would be acting very foolish not to return so he can make a home for you two.

V A H— I have been married a few years and my husband is older than I We can't agree. He nags me all the time. He says that I think I am cute but I just like to take good care of myself. I don't run around, I go to church and don't like big time stuff I can't stand his nagging and fussing any longer and want to know what to do?

Ans: He's darn jealous of your good looks—he is afraid someone else will notice you. Your husband has had three unsuccessful marriages before he married you—and whether he admits it or not, he has taken up the habit of nagging. Try reasoning with him and see if you can't make him see things your way. Prevent a divorce if possible

J H L— I am 19 years old, 5 ft. 8 in tall. Is there any way possible for me to add an inch or two to my height.

Ans: I couldn't say definitely—but I would try it if I was as interested as you seem to be. Join the YMCA for regular exercise classes and map out a program of exercises each day at home. A young man your age should be able to "stretch" a bit if he practices correct posture and etc.

M B— Will my husband get a job soon or would we do better if we were to move to another city? No one is working but me. He only works sometime

Ans: He can't hold a job until he gives up drinking so heavy. A change won't help—he needs to make a change in his habits. Hold to your job and make him get out and find something to do or cut down on his rations—you might force him whether he likes it or not.

M V L— I am writing to find out if it would be best for me to take a trip to New York this summer and work? Also tell us what to do about my kid sister going with this man?

Ans: Summer is practically over and if you went to New York this late you won't get a chance to get established before you would have to return and enter school. Find a job around home Your kid sister of 15 is too young to be getting serious with the older man—when school starts your mother can cut out the dates.

Martha Rhodes as a superintndents. Morning Worship 11:00. The pastor, Rev L G Moore, will preach the sermon morning and night. Throughout the day will be known as "Rhodes' Day" This day is observed in honor of the oldest steward of the church, Mr. Owen Rhodes. All members and friends are asked to bring tokens of appreciation

CONTEST A SUCCESS

The contest under the sponsorship of Mrs. Mattie Bell proved to be a favorable issue. The prominent Beauty Salons of the city with other business places were represented. An interesting program was rendered. Amount raised as follows:

E. F. Young, Jr Beauty Salon.... $2.85
Le Jean Beauty Salon ..... .50
9163 Taxi Station $2.77
Palace Drug Store $2.35
Fielder & Brooks' Drug Store..... $1.00

Mrs. Bell thanks all of her friends who helped her to raise the sum of $9.50 in her effort. All captains and friends who took part in the contest will be entertained at the Palace Drug Store of which Dr. A. C. Flemmings is proprietor. The date of the reception will be announced later.

Membership Campaign a Success

The Sunday was very successful in a membership drive sponsored by Mrs Johnnie Gillispie. Each member was asked to bring another person with him. The drive added much interest to the Sunday School. Miss Inez Rush was the captain of the various classes. Misses Mary P Young, Alberta Bell and Dorothy R Davis were secretaries.

SUMMER PRECAUTIONS FOR YOUR HAIR

Summer is hard on the hair. We often make it worse by neglecting to wear hats during the long summer days, leaving our crowning glory exposed to the searing gaze of old Sol for many long hours. Swimming, tennis, golf and other summer sports are so interesting that we forget about the hair and scalp, until, in the fall, the cruel awakening comes. Hair, which had once been a source of pride and joy, is unruly, dull and lifeless. Then we realize that it will take most of the winter to make it beautiful again.

To save time and worry later, work out a routine for the care of your hair during the summer. Be sure that it is simple and suited to your requirements, then stick to it. Study your hair carefully, decide whether it is dry or oily, whether the part is flattering. Decide on the time of day most convenient for brushing, and the time of week that is most suitable for your shampoo. Have your schedule so well-fitted into your personal time-budget that it will come as naturally as lunch, even on the sweltering days.

Frequent Shampoos

Cleanliness is the basic requirement, of course. When hair is immaculate, even the most casual coiffure will look becoming, for clean lustrous hair is beautiful in itself. Dull, poorly kept hair is a handicap which no woman should tolerate.

Shampoo your hair as often as you find necessary. Don't stick to the "one-week" or "two-day" rules. They do not always apply. Your requirements may differ from those of your neighbor. During the summer you will certainly need to shampoo your hair more frequently than in the winter. If you find that frequent shampooing in the summer tends to stimulate the oil glands, try an occasional dry shampoo perhaps alternate, or one of the good commercial products. If you shampoo incorrectly and infrequently, seldom using a hairbrush, you simply won't have the kind of hair that poets rave about.

Oil Treatment Essential

Heat and dryness will demand an occasional oil treatment to keep your hair soft and lustrous. This is also a good emergency treatment after a day at the beach, to replace natural oils, "gone with the wind." The oil treatment is especially good if your hair is too dry just after a shampoo and has a tendency to become too oily later.

Olive oil is one of the oldest beauty preparations and is still recognized as an effective and inexpensive aid to parched scalps. Vigorous scalp massage should be considered an important part of the oil treatment. Avoid using a high degree of artificial heat in drying, especially when there is a tendency toward dry scalp and brittle hair. Give yourself the treatment once each month, and the scalp will defy summer temperatures.

Brushes and combs should be immaculate. A thorough scrubbing in warm suds is due them at least once a week. If possible, dry in the sun, for this will prolong the life of brushes and keep the combs, as well as brushes, sanitary.

Keep your coiffure simple, so that it will take little of your time. Have it flattering to you even though it is not the current "rage." Too often we see a girl wearing an unflattering hairdress just because it is the fad. She would out-smart her sisters if she would stick to one becoming thing—a simple style that compliments her features. Remember, soft gleaming hair is beautiful even when simply dressed.

If you become bored with the routine you have set for yourself, make some changes. Try a new part, a new rinse or a new curl. It is important to keep yourself interested in these things, for no one else will be!

Conscientious care of the hair will add immeasurably to your appearance and self-confidence. They are well worth the time taken to achieve them. Don't you think so?

BEAUTY AND ROMANCE by Marie Downing

DIRECTOR, LARIEUSE BEAUTY FOUNDATION

The Larieuse Beauty Foundation was established by the Godefroy Manufacturing Company to study methods of preserving women's natural beauty and to make the results of this research available to the public.

MANICURE MUST SUIT SHAPE OF THE HANDS

Some women have such perfect features that they can cut their hair short and wear it plastered against their heads and still look strikingly beautiful,—but if you and I tried it, the results would be pretty sad. In other words, the fact that a coiffure is very smart and stylish doesn't necessarily mean that it will look well on any person.

Most women realize that, but then they turn right around and think that just because long, pointed fingernails look nice on someone else, they will be attractive on everybody. That's not right. Your nails must "fit" your hands just as your clothes must be suited to your age and figure.

Short Nails for Blunt Fingers

Look at your own hands. If you have a small, square hand with short, blunt fingers, it would be ridiculous for you to wear extremely pointed nails, which might look like artificial claws stuck on the ends of your fingers. Instead, wear your nails rather short and rounded, and don't let them extend any farther than the tips of your fingers.

If your fingers are broad and somewhat square at the ends, but still long, the nail shape should be along the same at the first case, but the curves of the nails can be longer so that the oval projects slightly beyond the tips of the fingers.

The girl with slender hands and tapering fingers may wear her nails as long and as pointed as she pleases. Since her hands do not need any help, she can wear any vivid shade of nail tint. Notice the photographs in advertisements and you will frequently see hands of this type,—but they are not a common in real life.

Some girls have small hands and short fingers, but the fingers are well-tapered; that is, they are somewhat pointed, being narrower at the tips than they are at the base. With this sort of hands the nails can be pointed, although the point should be rounded somewhat, and the nails should not be as long as those worn with longer fingers.

"Sensible" Nails Always Correct

If you can't decide what type of hands you have, study the hands of other women and keep in mind whether your own are longer or shorter than the average. Perhaps you never formed the habit of studying hands before. It will not be hard to recognize the various types and to decide what class your own hands fit into.

Of course, it's also well to consider your occupation in choosing your nails. If you don't do any housework, it's easy to keep them long. But if you do a great deal of typing or housework, it's not wise to choose long nails, as they will be difficult to keep in order and will be subjected to unnecessarily long nails that be have four long ones and the fifth only halfway grown out.

So my next column, two weeks from today, I'll have some more tips about how to do your own manicuring at home.

Tuesday night Weems Chapel col. $5.25

Wednesday night Pleasant Valley Baptist church collected on $4.27.

Thursday night Pine Grove and Parker's Chapel collection $3.10.

Sunday we had that "hot shot" from Columbia, Miss., Rev. E. L. Fox with some of his loyal members who really know how to put the program over.

Rev. Madison of Gulfport, Miss. preached for us at 11:45 a.m. We all just feasted at 12:30 o'clock, we had dinner on the ground, and my, my, what a time cakes, chickens, pies, custards, greens and peas. The deacons say that they could not fill Reverend Fox up. Well "I reckon the poor boy was hungry," he said that he had not been home in four weeks.

After dinner we re-assembled, and we had a program which was enjoyed by all. After which, Rev. Fox went to the platform and preached the Installation Sermon, at that hour the house was just too small for the congregation. The great hero choice for a text "1st Peter 2-16 verses. Subject: "No Parking When The wrs Through." We all felt as if we were made anew again. At 7:55 p.m. "that little red man", you know Reverend Potter brought us a "hot message" just from the throne, let me tell you things really hummed.

Deacon Willie Fulton was Master of Ceremonies throughout the week. The collection for the week was $80.11, and the gift to the pastor was given in money. Our entire membership loves our new pastor and we are proud to have him come to us at this time.

WPA AND THE DEFENSE PROGRAM

INTERNED GERMAN SEAMEN USE FORT LINCOLN FACILITIES

At Fort Lincoln, Bismark (North Dakota), WPA workers have modernized 53 buildings, including officers' quarters, non-commissioned officers' quarters, barracks, mess halls, office buildings and maintenance shops, besides enlarging the indoor swimming pool and landscaping 6.0 acres of grounds. The fort has recently been turned over to the Department of Justice, and 250 German seamen convicted of sabotage in eastern seaports are now interned there in custody of the U. S. Immigration Service. In 1917 the fort was a concentration point for midwestern troops heading for France. Fort Lincoln was established in 1872, and from this post General Custer and his 7th Cavalry rode to the Battle of Little Big Horn and death in 1876.

WPA workers are constructing eight new buildings, an outdoor theatre, concrete tent floors, and improving water storge facilities at Camp Grafton on Devils Lake, North Dakota National Guard post. The WPA workers are using some of the material salvaged from demolished frame buildings in the new consturction. When the work is completed the Guardsmen will have a well-equipped training center for their present needs.

By LOUIS REID
(Music Features & Photo Syndicate)

THAT the popular songwriter dominates overwhelmingly America's musical performances is proved conclusively in the exhaustive survey the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers has just completed of the year 1935. Of the 132 compositions listed, which were performed more than 10,000 times — 10,000 performances establishes a number as a hit — only four were written by writers not identified with so-called "popular" music.

Louis Reid

The four non-"popular" hits of 1936 were Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever" and "Washington Post," Fritz Kreisler's "Liebesfreud" and Reginald De Koven's immortal "O Promise Me."

Most Popular Ballad

What is the most popular ballad, exclusive of the folk melodies by Stephen Foster, James A. Bland and others, that endures down through the years? Your correspondent, curious to know, recently set out on a hunt, was surprised at the results of his research. Can you guess the song? No? Well, it is "Silver Threads Among the Gold." Most everyone is familiar with its melody, but probably not one person in 10,000 knows that it was written by H. P. Danks and E. E. Rexford. A.S.C.A.P.'s exhaustive files show the astounding total of 10,468 performances of the song in 1936.

The hands of Charles Wakefield Cadman, A.S.C.A.P., of Summer" and "Sweet Genevieve," by Henry Tucker and G. Cooper.

"In second place but another old favorite, "When You and I Were Young, Maggie," by the wholly unknown J. A. Butterfield. It rolled up 9,676 performances. Capturing the show honors was Thomas H. Bayly's (who remembers Thomas H. Bayly?) "Long Long Ago" with 9,364.

"In order follow "Oley Speaks' "Sylvia" (6,358), "Love's Old Sweet Song," by J. L. Malloy and G. Clifton Bingham, 5,755; Carrie Jacobs Bond's "End of a Perfect Day," 3,123 (Mrs. Bond, incidentally, is the songwriter whose name is known the length and breadth of the land); "By the Waters of Minnetonka," by Lieurora Lieurora, 4,987; Charles Wakefield Cadman's "At Dawning," 3,937; "Kashmiri Song," by Amy Woodforde-Finden and Laurence Hope, 3,790 and "Just a Wearyin' for You," also by Carrie Jacobs Bond, 3,760.

Greatest Recent Song Hit

Ask Tin Pan Alley what is the greatest song hit of the last few years and invariably your answer will be "When I Grow Too Old to Dream," Sigmund Romberg's waltz ditty. It is the most successful tune that has come along since Billy Hill wrote "The Last Round Up." Each of these songs is what the music world calls a "natural," by which is meant a simple, singable, easy-to-remember melody. Other recent songs in this classification are "Margie," "Japanese Sandman," "Sweet Sue," "Dinah," "Sugar" and "When the Moon Comes Over the Mountain."

"Aloha-Oe" High in List

The second most popular ten, ranging in performances from 3,500 to 1,350, were, in order, the famous chant of Hawaii, "Aloha-Oe," by Princess Liliukalani; "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," the stirring Hills of Home," by O. J. Fox; the vivid Mexican song, "Ay Ay Ay," by Ramon Perez Freire; Charles Wake-

On the other hand there are hit songs that have to be made by plugging. A notable example of this type was "Isle of Capri."

Somehow, the spirit of naughtiness which the French can put into a tune escapes when the composition reaches this side.

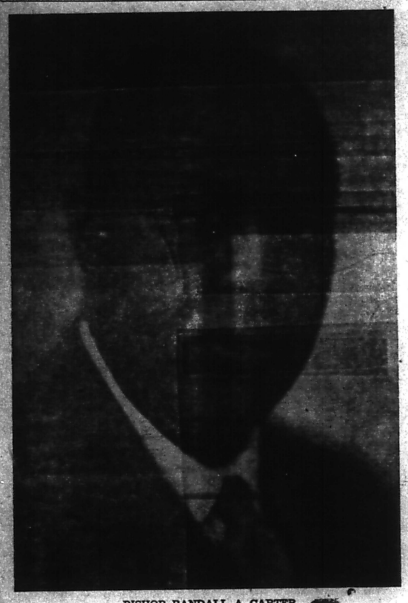
BIRMINGHAM HOST TO C.M.E. WOMEN'S COUNCIL

Demand Probe of Trouble At Bragg



BISHOP RANDALL A CARTER

National Meeting Attracts Thousands To Birmingham, Ala.

Mrs Rossie T. Hollis to Lead Host in Attendance At Annual Sessions Bishops General Officers, Pastors, Lay Workers Present -Bishop Porter Host

MERIDIAN, Aug. 22—Rallying to the call of Mrs. Rossie T Hollis, president of the Women's Connectional Council of the Colored M.E. church, more than a 1,000 CME's are expected to attend this week during the bi-ennial session of the women's top-ranking organization.

The big delegation began arriving in Birmingham Sunday August 17, two days in advance of the sessions scheduled from Tuesday, August 19 to Sunday August 24. The auditorium of Miles Memorial college is the scene of the council.

TEXAS SENDS LARGE DELEGATION

Many of the States vied for leadership in the number of women sent to the council. The Lone Star State by official action on the part of the annual conferences in that State, at the instance of Bishop R A Carter, patron bishop of the Women's Connectional council, laid plans to send the largest delegation of women to ever attend the national session.

Other States which have big out-of-State delegations are Georgia, Mississippi Arkansas, Tennessee, Illinois, North Carolina, Florida, Louisiana, Kentucky Ohio; Oklahoma, Missouri, and South Carolina. The five annual conferences in Alabama are not counted in the attendance race, Alabama being the entertaining State. Bishop Henry P Porter, presiding bishop of the Fifth Episcopal district (Alabama and Florida) heads the entertaining commission, assisted by Mrs. D G Woods, Mrs. Lomax Dr. W A Bell, president of Miles Memorial college, and E F Durr, general secretary of lay activities.

In the list of leaders expected, most of whom are already present are Bishops Chas. H Phillips, senior bishop of the church, and presiding bishop of the First Episcopal District (Ohio, Kentucky and California), Cleveland, Ohio.

Bishop Randall A Carter, presiding bishop of the Second Episcopal district (Texas), Chicago, Ill

Probe Of Trouble At Bragg Ordered By War Department

Inspector General's Office Told to Act

WASHINGTON, D. C. Aug. 22— At the direction of Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson, the Inspector General Major General Virgil L. Peterson, is making a complete investigation of trouble at Fort Bragg, N.C., which culminated in the shooting to death of a colored soldier and a white military policeman

The investigation will cover not only the shooting in which the colored soldier and the white military policeman were killed and several other colored soldiers were wounded by bullets and clubs, but the reported subsequent harsh treatment of colored troops by the military police.

Secretary Stimson ordered the office of the Inspector General to make an Independent investigation of the facts None of the facts learned will be revealed until the report of the Inspector General has been submitted to the Secretary of War.

Dean William Pickens, special assistant to the Secretary of the U. S. Treasury and for many years field secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, is to be the speaker on "Wings Over Jordan" over the Columbia Broadcasting System Sunday morning, Aug. 31, Rev. Let's Pull Togeather

By Ruth Taylor

Have you ever watched a tug-of-war? If you have, then you know that it isn't always the side on which there is the greatest strength that wins. The winning team is the team that pulls together.

We need that kind of team work now in our haste to rearm in a world maddened by war. And it is the disruption of that team work on which the enemy both without and within, is concentrating its attack.

True we are not physically at war There are no hostile armies encamped on our territories. Within the three mile limt our ships are safe. We still watch with eye of interest rather than alarm, the swift fight of the graceful planes across the summer sky.

But there is a war on now and here It is a Blitzkrieg of words of ideas. As deadly as the poison gas it emulates and precedes, the attack is on our unity Beware of all propaganda that seeks to divide this country into groups—whether the diversions be those of class, race religion or color.

The development of "group" thinking is the forerunner of discord making men look with suspicion upon their neighbors and unleashing forces of hatred that when fully grown would destroy the unity of purpose which is the backbone of our country.

For our unity is forged not as the unities of overcrowded Europe, of fear and hatred—but by a common purpose a common ideal towards which we strive however imperfectly we may at times express it. It is the unity of those who love America and its form of government and who would rather live here under democartic rule than any place else in the whole world. And how right they are—and how much better off.

We are too apt as a people to think first of what our government can do for us—rather than what we can do to help make our government better. Democracy is not a gift. It is the expression of free men and must be earned and paid for by each succeeding generation. As Sergeant York, speaking at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, said: "Liberty and freedom and democracy are so very precious that you do not fight to win them once—and then stop. Liberty and freedom and democracy are prizes awarded only to those people who fight to win them and then keep fighting eternally to hold them."

This is a fight in which we must have team work, so let's all pull together—and we'll win.

DEKALB— This is to let the many readers know that we the members of Jerusalem Baptist Church carried out a grand revival and were blessed with twelve member added to the church.

Money raised during the revival was $62.95.

THE WRITER OF HEBREWS EXPLAINS THE COVENANT

Hebrews 8:1-10; 18

Printed Text, Hebrews 9:11-22

Golden Text— Having been made perfect, he became unto all them that obey him the author of all salvation. Heb. 5:9

The Lesson In Its Setting

TIME— Apparently the Epistle to the Hebrews was written before the fall of Jerusalem, and, therefore, possibly about A.D. 67.

PLACE— We do not know from what place the Epistle was written, and it is not necessary to know for an understanding of these wonderful chapters through the greater and more perfect Hebrews 9:11. But Christ having come high priest of the good things to come tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of his creation. n

12. Nor through the blood of goats and calves, but through his own blood entered in once for all into the holy place, having obtained eternal redemption.

13. For if the blood of goats and bulls, and the ashes of a heifer sprinkling them that have been defiled, sanctify unto the cleanness of the flesh:

14. How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal spirit offered himself without blemish unto God, Cleanse your conscience from dead works to serve the living God?

15. And for this cause he is the mediator of a new covenant, that a death having taken place for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first covenant they that have been called may receive the promise of the eternal inheritance.

16. For where a testament is, there must if necessity be the death of him that made it.

17. For a testament is of force where there hath been death: for it doth never avail while he that made it liveth.

18. Wherefore even the first covenant hath not been dedicated without blood

19. For when every commandment had been spoken by Moses unto the people according to the law, he took the blood of the calves and the goats, with water and scarlet wool and hyssip, and sprinkled both the book itself and all the people.

20. Saying this is the blood of the covenant which God commanded to you ward.

21. Moreover the tabernacle and all the vessels of the ministery he sprinkled in likemanner with the blood.

22. And according to the law, I may almost say, all things are cleansed with blood, and apart from shedding of blood there is no remission.

BEAUTY AND ROMANCE by Marie Downing

DIRECTOR, LARIEUSE BEAUTY FOUNDATION

The Larieuse Beauty Foundation was established by the Godefroy Manufacturing Company to study methods of preserving women's natural beauty, and to make the results of this research available to the public.

PERSPIRATION

"His brow is wet with honest sweat."

Perspiration is above criticism for the working man, but for us, dear ladies, it is a decided foe of attractiveness, for to be completely delectable and to have the irresistible charm of feminine daintiness is the wish of every woman.

During these warm summer days our efforts to control excessive perspiration becomes a real battle. Frequent bathing to keep the skin fresh and clean is of primary importance. A cold sponge or shower is an excellent preventive, and a few drops of your favorite perfume or some bath salts in the bath water will help achieve your goal.

Light Make-up

If you perspire freely about the face, makeup should be used sparingly and applied carefully. Don't make the mistake of trying to overcome the effects of perspiration by a heavy application of cosmetics, for this would soon become streaked and blotched. As a result your appearance would be worse than if no makeup at all were used.

Rinsing the face with witch hazel or any good astringent lotion before applying cosmetics is a good method. This has a mildly astringent effect that will check the flow of perspiration and also soothe and cool the skin.

Your choice of powder for the summer should be made very carefully. Be sure to get one as light in weight as possible. A heavy powder clots easily on moist skins —so the lightest the powder, the better for those who perspire freely.

Don't feel handicapped if your skin is moist. It will probably look fresh and smooth and will not have the parched dried out appearance that the warm, sunny days bring to those with drier complexions. If you keep your skin clear, eyes, eyebrows, lips and hair attractively groomed, you won't have to worry about cosmetics, except for a little powder to keep your nose and forehead from becoming shiny.

A certain quantity of perspiration is normal. Failure to perspire is nothing to be proud of, because it is an indication of subnormal health conditions.

Two Ways to Relief

Make a complete change of clothing daily. Air your dresses and shoes after each wearing. To guard against even a suggestion of perspiration odor, use one of the astringents or deodorants on the market for that purpose. In some cases a mild solution of warm water and alum is sufficient astringent to discourage perspiration.

An excellent treatment for more difficult cases of underarm perspiration is four parts distilled water to one part aluminum chloride. Do not use this too often. Once every three days is sufficient for the first few applications. After the second week, once a week will do the work. Sometimes three applications at three-day intervals will relieve the condition. An application every ten days thereafter will prevent recurrances.

Be very careful not to use this solution too frequently. If you do so, you can cause a skin problem. Let the solution dry thoroughly on the skin before putting on your dress. (For sensitive skins, the parts bathed with this solution should be rinsed after it has dried.) Always wash under the arms before applying.

And in closing—"Let your brow beget no needless sweat."

M B P— Will my husband give me up and give me a divorce without any trouble so I can carry out my plans?

Ans: He really wouldn't like to give you up—but if you insist there isn't anything else for him to do. I would like to ask if you are sure of your friend in the Army? Young boys make lots of promises—he is away from you now and will be for many months—don't you think you had better wait and think this problem over some more

M F D— We want to buy a home pretty soon and I wish to know if it would be advisable to buy a place by putting so much down and pay the balance off like we were paying rent?

Ans: By all means do. That is the way the majority of people who own homes get them. As soon as you have enough money ahead for a down payment, pick out your place and make arrangements to buy. I am sure that you will be well pleased by doing so

T M M— Should I just forget about my husband and marry this other boy? Answer soon as I will know what to do?

Ans: Go back home to your husband This boy liked you alright but he was not going to take you and your baby too. Your husband wants you and the baby back with him and I think you would be acting very foolish not to return so he can make a home for you two.

V A H— I have been married a few years and my husband is older than I We can't agree. He nags me all the time. He says that I think I am cute but I just like to take good care of myself. I don't run around, I go to church and don't like big time stuff I can't stand his nagging and fussing any longer and want to know what to do?

Ans: He's darn jealous of your good looks—he is afraid someone else will notice you. Your husband has had three unsuccessful marriages before he married you—and whether he admits it or not, he has taken up the habit of nagging. Try reasoning with him and see if you can't make him see things your way. Prevent a divorce if possible

J H L— I am 19 years old, 5 ft. 8 in tall. Is there any way possible for me to add an inch or two to my height.

Ans: I couldn't say definitely—but I would try it if I was as interested as you seem to be. Join the YMCA for regular exercise classes and map out a program of exercises each day at home. A young man your age should be able to "stretch" a bit if he practices correct posture and etc.

M B— Will my husband get a job soon or would we do better if we were to move to another city? No one is working but me. He only works sometime

Ans: He can't hold a job until he gives up drinking so heavy. A change won't help—he needs to make a change in his habits. Hold to your job and make him get out and find something to do or cut down on his rations—you might force him whether he likes it or not.

M V L— I am writing to find out if it would be best for me to take a trip to New York this summer and work? Also tell us what to do about my kid sister going with this man?

Ans: Summer is practically over and if you went to New York this late you wou'dn't get a chance to get established before you would have to return and enter school. Find a job around home Your kid sister of 15 is too young to be getting serious with the older man—when school starts your mother can cut out the dates.

BEAUTY AND ROMANCE

SPONSORED BY LARIEUSE BEAUTY BUREAU

The Larieuse Beauty Bureau was established by the Godefroy Manufacturing Company to study methods of preserving women's natural beauty, and to make the results of this research available to the public.

You want the admiration of others, don't you? Then, use your head! Dull, dingy hair has a repelling influence on people. You yourself know that you don't turn your head and look a second time at someone whose hair is unkempt, discolored and drab-looking.

Despite the popular saying that "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" it is my belief that "Gentlemen Prefer Women" no matter what the color of their crowning glory—IF it is a color—one color—any color that is attractive.

Look at your hair in the front, on the back of your head, and ing several strands, look underneath. Is it streaky and vari-colored, is it scotty? Is it lovely because of its well-groomed appearance?

If you are disappointed in the way your hair looks, if the coloring does not suit you, apply an accredited coloring and see for yourself how much improved your appearance will be.

Don't be a stay-at-home, don't lose opportunities for happiness and romance, simply because you may have overlooked the appearance of your hair. It's so much a part of you but that is all the more reason for taking care of it—beautify your hair with regular treatment and a well-rounded diet.

The subject of proper foods for general health, as well as hair health, will be considered in a later column, so for the time being we shall think only about what daily routine will help to develop your hair so that you will be the envy of your friends, and the admiration of your masculine associates.

The small amount of effort expended in brushing your hair daily will pay handsome dividends. Use a [illegible] brush. Divide the hair in sections (as if you were going to braid it) all over your head, and taking one part at a time, brush upward and outward with vigorous strokes. Keep this up until your scalp fairly tingles with life—you have already improved the circulation, and good circulation to the roots of your hair will result in stronger and healthier hair.

If your hair is dry, try oil treatments or shampoos. Keep out of the sun—on windy days, remember to wear some kind of covering on your head because the elements are hard on hair and render the problem of caring for the hair a most difficult one.

If your hair is oily, use egg shampoos to help brighten it, to bring out the sheen which is ordinarily hidden by the accumulation of oil from the scalp.

It is never good to scratch the head—instead, place your fingertips on your scalp and gently, but firmly, move the scalp backwards and forwards, and from side to side. This exercise has a stimulating effect and will reward you in hair beauty and health.

For the next several weeks, concentrate on your hair. It is a lot more beneficial to follow a few rules for beauty regularly, than to confuse the mind with many which, in the end, are forgotten because it is too hard to remember so much.

Don't go around envying others' beautiful hair when it is so easy to have beautiful hair yourself.

What are your beauty problems? Write: Marie Downing, Larieuse Beauty Bureau, 3509 Lindell Blvd., St. Louis, Mo., and she will be glad to answer them. Be sure to enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope

Labor Day 1941

By Ruth Taylor

September in Europe—what new horror will it unleash? What new night mare of war will drive hapless, harried people from their homes, sending them scurrying hither and yon in search of shelter from the pitiless conquerors whose bloodlust is never sated?

Here in this land of ours the first days of September will also send people from home—but for a different cause! Here the first Monday in September is set apart for the celebration of Labor Day. In contrast with the panic stricken hordes abroad, here city dwellers will be rushing to the country, shore and mountains for one last golden playtime, a fitting climax to a happy summer while from the countryside and small town, thousands of others will hurry townward to enjoy the pleasures of city life before settling down to the quiet of their calmly ordered lives.

However, this year the celebration of Labor Day is not just a day of recreation. It must also be a day of rededication to a way of life, to a form of government in which each of us has a part and where one of our great holidays has as its purpose to do honor to those who work—to all men and women whose toil and travail has made the country great.

In the days that lie ahead, even if the war be kept from our shores, we will all be mobilized for service in some form or other for the adequate defense of this our country and for that form of government which we hold dear. There will be no room for idlers. We will all serve and gladly. Whether we serve in positions of prominence or in the humblest capacity we are all laborers, working for the good of the many that the rights and privileges which have been struggled for and won at such a great sacrifice, may be handed down to future generations.

Labor Day 1941 is not a day set apart for any one group. It belongs to all of us, whether our work is of brain or hand. How we do our appointed task is the important thing—not what that task may be. We cannot see the end from

THE MENACE OF SELF PITY

R.A.F.

She said—"There is something wrong growing. I feel it. I have two boys. One of them when he misses with his ball just laughs and tries again. But the other—he is my trouble. When he misses he always says the sun was in his eyes or somebody pushed him. That is what is happening to our people. They will not laugh and try to throw the ball right. They keep thinking it is not their fault. I can stop it with my boy—but I cannot stop it with my people—and the end will be bad."

What self pity can do to a nation we have seen in the rise of Hitler. We are face to face today with the problem of how to keep from our shores the forces he has unleased. But we must also keep out the source from which his power mushroomed.

There is no self pity here? But there is! The young people say, "There is nothing for us today—we can't live normal lives the way your generation could. There is no future for us." The adults complain of the taxes they have to pay—overlooking that these taxes are a small price to pay for freedom. A howl goes up when the slightest restriction is placed on the people as a whole, for the good of the people as a whole.

We do like to complain. And our freedom to do so is the unwritten codicil to the Bill of Rights. But we must take care not to let natural grousing turn into self pity. This is the stuff upon which the dictators feed a fungus growth that can choke a healthy nation sapping the unity of purpose that is the cornerstone of our democratic way of life.

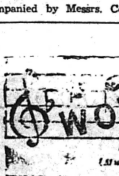
WORDS WITHOUT MUSIC

By LOUIS REID

(Music Features & Photo Syndicate)

THAT the popular songwriter dominates overwhelmingly American musical performances is proved conclusively in the exhaustive survey the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers has just completed of its year 1936. Of the 132 compositions listed, which were performed more than 10,000 times — 10,000 performances establishes a number as a hit — only four were by writers not identified with so-called "popular" music.



Louis Reid

The four non-"popular" hits of 1936 were Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever" and "Washington Post," Fritz Kreisler's "Liebesfreud" and Reginald De Koven's triumphal "O Promise Me."

Most Popular Ballad

What is the most popular ballad, exclusive of the folk melodies by Stephen Foster, James A. Bland and others, that endures down through the years? Your correspondent, curious to know, recently set out on a hunt, was surprised at the results of his research. Can you guess the song? No? Well, it is "Silver Threads Among the Gold." Most everyone is familiar with its melody, but probably not one person in 10,000 knows that it was written by H. P. Danks and E. E. Rexford. A.S.C.A.P.'s exhaustive files show the astounding total of 10,468 performances of the song in 1936.

The second place goes another old favorite, "When You and I Were Young, Maggie," by the equally unknown J. A. Butterfield. It rolled up 9,676 performances. Capturing the third honors was Thomas H. Bayly's (who remembers Thomas H. Bayly?) "Long Long Ago" with 8,364.

In order follow Oley Speaks' "Sylvia" (8,358), "Love's Old Sweet Song," by J. L. Molloy and G. Clifton Bingham, 5,755; Carrie Jacobs Bond's "End of a Perfect Day," 3,132 (Mrs. Bond, incidentally, is the songwriter whose name is known the length and breadth of the land); "By the Waters of Minnetonka," by Laurlow Lieurance, 4,937; Charles Wakefield Cadman's "At Dawning," 4,937; "Kashmiri Song," by Amy Woodforde-Finden and Laurence Hope, 3,920 and "Just a Wearyin' for You," also by Carrie Jacobs Bond, 3,760.

"Aloha-Oe" High in List

The second most popular ten, ranging in performances from 3,500 to 1,350, were, in order, the famous chant of Hawaii, "Aloha-Oe," by Princess Lilikalani; "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," the stirring Hills of Home," by O. J. Fox; the Mexican song, "Ay Ay Ay," by Ignacio Peres Freire; Charles Wakefield Cadman's haunting "From the Land of the Sky Blue Water," Thomas Westendorf's "I'll Take You Home Again, Kathleen," Joe Howard Payne's "Home Sweet Home," "Old Oaken Bucket" (Samuel Woodworth, of course wrote the words, but who knows that F. Kaillmark composed the melody?); "Believe Me, If All Those Endearing Young Charms" as "Sweet and Low," Sir Joseph Barnby's setting of Lord Tennyson's poem.

Among other great ballads that continue to hold high favor with the public through the years are Annie F. Harrison's sentiments "In the Gloaming," the captivatingly tuneful "Duna," ever popular with the concert baritones, by the well known J. McGill and M. Pickthall, Charles W. Glover's "Rose of Tralee," made famous by John McCormack; Alice Hawthorne's "Listen to the Mocking Bird," "The Last Rose of Summer" and "Sweet Genevieve," by Henry Tucker and G. Cooper.

Greatest Recent Song Hit

Ask Tin Pan Alley what is the greatest song hit of the last few years and invariably your answer will be "When I Grow Too Old to Dream," Sigmund Romberg's waltz ditty. It is the most successful tune that has come along since Billy Hill wrote "The Last Round Up." Each of these songs is what the music world calls a "natural," by which is meant a simple, singable, easy-to-remember melody. Other recent songs in this classification are "Margie," "Japanese Sandman," "Sweet Sue," "Dinah," "Sweet Sue" and "When the Moon Comes Over the Mountain."

On the other hand there are hit songs that have to be made by plugging. A notable example of this type was "Isle of Capri."

Somehow, the spirit of naughtiness which the French can put into a tune escapes when the composition reaches this side.

RECENT U. S. SUPREME COURT DECISIONS

Methodist In Birmingham Contab

Recent Supreme Court Decision Affecting SOUTHERN CUSTOMS

Southern State and Federal District Courts have been overruled with increasing regularity during the past decade The Supreme Court of the United States apparently is Inclining to favor citizens rights as opposed to property rights and sectional customs.

During the summer while the Court rests, it is well to assemble these decisions which affect directly the methods which the South has used to solve its race problem and consider them as a trend rather than as a final decision.

SEPARATE SCHOOLS MAY BE MAINTAINED

The Court says the South may continue segregation in its system of education as far as the Constitution is concerned, but Educational Opportunity Must Be Equal

On December 1. 1938. the United States Supreme Court ruled in the suit of Lloyd Gaines vs. the State of Missouri that a state must provide equal educational opportunities for all its youth

This decision was handed down in a case appealed from the decision of the Missouri State Courts involving a suit seeking to force the University of Missouri to admit Lloyd Gainer, Negro, to the law department. The state courts held that the law, making mandatory separation of the races in schools, prohibited the University from admitting Negroes. The Supreme Court did not base its opinion on the state segregation law. It held that if a state provides education l opportunities for white youth, the same opportunities must be provided for Negro youth. However the decision specifically stated that if any branch of work was not provided white youth, the State did not have to provide it for Negroes.

SALARIES MUST BE EQUAL

In November, 1939, the United States District Court of Maryland handed down an opinion in which the board of education of Anne Arudel County is directed to institute a non-discriminatory pay scale for white and Negro teachers.

Following less than a year after the Supreme Court ruling on higher education for Negroes in states maintaining a biracial system of education, this Federal court decision opens up another field of discrimination on the basis of race in the South's educational system.

In setting out the reasons for the decision, the court destroyed one of the South's most ingenius methods of discrimination based on statutes:

"The controlling question in the case, however, is not whether the statutes are unconstitutional on their face, but whether in their practical application they constitute an unconstitutional discrimination on account of race and color prejudicial to the plaintiff."

TO THOSE WHO COMPLAIN

Getting this little paper out is no picnic.
If we print jokes people say we are silly
If we don't they say we are too serious
If we clip things from other papers
We are too lazy to write them ourselves
If we don't we are too fond of our own stuff.
If we don't print contributions,
We don't appreciate true genius;
If we do print them the paper is filled with junk.
If we make a change in the other person's write up we are too critical,
If we don't we are asleep.
Now that we told someone will say,
We swiped this from some other paper— WE DID.

Home-makers Club

In spite of the fact that a number of the members of the Cheerio Home-Makers Club have been out vacationing and attending various meetings there is a marked increase of interest and attendance over last summer's work. It takes time to get organized, and we learn to love the things with which we are connected, in proportion to our activity. We are still working on our club project—making a quilt. In keeping with the purpose of the club the ladies, many of whom have never quilted, are taking advantage of the opportunity to learn, and find it very fascinating.

The Club will meet Monday morning September 1, at the home of Mrs. E. F Young, Jr., 2009-24th Street, at ten o'clock.

The Word of God

Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path.—Psalm 119:105.

The Words of Jesus: All religious teaching, doctrine or creed, if they are to have any claim upon the love, loyalty and devotion of the people, must be in harmony with the teachings of Jesus the Christ whose words fit into every fold and crevice of the human heart, and of whom it was said in John 7:46, "NEVER MAN SPAKE LIKE THIS MAN."

Watch Your Steps

We have very often heard the saying "Watch Your Steps". There is much in the saying "Watch Your Steps". Some times we stumble, by not watching sometimes we fall, sometimes we drown sometimes we are burned, and at times we are blinded. The saying "Watch Your Steps", implies using precaution in our daily activities and in our conversation with our fellowman. If we do not watch our steps we will find ourselves faced with unfortunate situations.

There are those of us who have good jobs and make good money at times and because we fail to watch our steps we spend it as we make it. We do not think about the rainy days, we do not think about those jobless days, we do not think about the poor pay days. We think that when the dollars are being made we must eat all the candy, drink all the soda-water and joy-ride in all the cars and as soon as our money gives out, we stop eating, drinking and riding and then we find ourselves hungry and walking barefooted and naked.

Money is plentiful at this particular time and everybody who wants a job can have a job. Everybody who wants money, can have some if not much we had better watch our steps. Ere long we may be begging. It is said that most of us buy the things we do not need and beg for the things we need.

SUPREME COURT DECISION

The Court continues:

"The crucial question in the case is whether the very substantial differential between the white and colored teachers of Anne Arundel County is due to discrimination on account of race or color.

I find as a fact from the testimony it is."

The court does not undertake to specify the amount of the salaries to be paid to white or colored teachers but the Court enjoins the board of education of Anne Arundel County "from discrimination in salaries on account of race or color."

In June 1940, the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals at Asheville, N. C., handed down a similar decision in the case of Melvin O. Alston vs. the Norfolk, Virginia, school board. (this article will be continued in next weeks issue).

Blue Springs Circuit Makes Clean Sweep

On Saturday, August 23, Presiding Elder R. L. Young held his third Quarterly Conference at Blue Springs C. M. E. Church, with Reverend C. T. Thompson, pastor. The members served dinner at the church on Saturday at 3:00 o'clock.

More than forty persons were present. The Presiding Elder was paid out in full on Saturday and the pastor, Presiding Elder several of the officers and members were visitors at the Mt. Pleasant C. M. E. Church revival, where the Reverend E D. Barksdale preached the 11:00 o'cock sermon and practically $100 was raised in the morning collection.

Reverend T. Sander, Jr., the popular pastor of the Bassfield Circuit is now conducting a revival at Pleasant Grove C. M. E. Church, here Reverend E F Young is the energetic pastor.

JOHN URGES CHRISTIAN LOVE

The Epistles of John

Printed Text—John 3:13-18; 4:7-21

Golden Text— Let us not love in words neither with the tongue; but in deed and truth. 1 John 3:18.

Devotional Reading: Heb. 13:1-8

The Lesson In Its Setting

TIME— Not absolutely known with accuracy, but probably between A.D. 90 and 95.

PLACE— These Epistles were probably written from the city of Ephesus.

The Plan Of The Lesson

Subject: How a child of God ought to live in a world which is in the power of the evil one, and in which he will be face to face with great temptations and with those who would deceive him regarding the truth.

1 John 3:13. Marvel not, brethren, if the world hateth you.

14. We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brethren. He that loveth not abideth in death.

15. Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer: and ye know that no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him.

16. Hereby know we love, because he laid down his life for us; and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren.

17. But who hath the world's goods, and beholdeth his brother in need, and shutteth up his compassion from him, how doth the love of God abide in him?

18. My little children, let us not love in words neither with the tongue; but in deed and truth.

1 John 4:7. Beloved, let us love one another: for love of God; and every one that loveth is begotten of God, for God is Love.

8. He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is Love.

9. Herein was the love manifested in us, that God hath sent His only begotten Son into the world that we might live through him.

10. Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that He loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitation for our sins.

11. Beloved, if God so loved us, we also ought to love one another.

12. No man hath beheld God at any time: if we love one another, GOD abideth in me, and his love is perfected in us.

13. Hereby we know that we abide in him and he in me, because he hath given us of his Spirit.

14. And we have beheld and bear witness that the Father hath sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world.

15. Whosoever shall confess that Jesus is the Son of God, God abideth in him.

16. And we know and have believed the love which God hath in us. God is love; and he that abideth in love abideth in God, and God abideth in him.

17. Herein is love made perfect with us, that we may have boldness in the day of judgement; because he is; even so are we in this world.

18. There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear, because fear hath punishment; and he that feareth is not made perfect in love.

19. We love, because he first love us.

20. If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar; for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, cannot love God whom he hath not seen.

21. And this commandment have we from him, that he who loveth God love his brother also.

About Folk We Know

urday for the annual picnic at Pilgrim She was accompanied on the trip by her little son.

A revival is in session at Newell Chapel C. M. E. Church of which Rev Matthew J. Jones is pastor. Reverend Davis has charge of the meeting.

Prof. H. L. Thompson and family of Amory, Miss. passed through this city Monday, August 24th enroute to Waverland where they will attend a religious conference through Friday. On returning they will stop for a day with Miss C. B. Noble and then return to their home. The family is contributing much to the educational world. Professor H. L. Thompson is the principal of the Monroe County Training School, located in Amory. His wife, Mrs. O. L. Thompson is the Jeanes Supervisor of Monroe County. His mother, Mrs. Ollie Murry Pendleton is the Gene's Supervisor of Quitman County. The family will be guest of Mrs. Emma Hines Thornton Friday night at the G. M Reese Court where the Midsummer Festival will be held.

The WPA recreational center of the East End section is moving on nicely under the efficient management of Mrs Emma Hines Thornton and Mrs. Battle The chorus will broadcast Tuesday night at 9:o'clock D.S.T. over the local station WCOC. Patriotic, spirituals, melodies and folk songs will feature the program. Mesdames Ada Meadows Burley, Theresa Key, and Gladys Grace will do special solo numbers.

Preacher: Why are you crying little girl?

Ara: I'm afraid of that dog over there

Preacher: He is not going to bother you, see he is wagging his tail

Ans: Yes, but that ain't the end I'm afraid of.

Sunday School Teacher: All children must be good so they will go to Heaven when they die. Won don't you like to go there, Ned?

Ned: No teacher, I'd rather go to Birmingham.

WORDS WITHOUT MUSIC

By LOUIS REID

Louis Reid

THE sales counters of the music business derive their chief sustenance from Beethoven and other old masters. Believe it or not, the classics outdistance jazz at the cash register. In fact, there are those who state authoritatively that the old masters keep the music business alive. It is almost like saying that the sale of caviar is keeping the grocery business alive, or that U. S. Steel has touched zero, or that Congress had passed a law against crooning. It comes under the heading of "incredible."

Nevertheless, the depression which has affected the sale of popular music, has made scarcely a dent in the sale of classical compositions. Topping all demands at the counters are the works of Beethoven, with his "Minuet in G" the leader. You know how it goes—da da DA da dadela da la." Oh well, play it yourself.

But not far behind the "Minuet" are Chopin's "Waltz in D flat major," Schumann's "Merry Peasant Returning from His Work," Bach's "Bourree" from his second violin sonata and Schubert's "Marche Militaire." America may have peace, but it insists also upon the "Marche Militaire."

Sergei Rachmaninoff

Among the songs the best sellers, as they are the most performed according to the surveys of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, are "Schubert's Serenade," Brahms' "Lullaby" and Schumann's "Two Grenadiers." Year in and year out these pieces are purchased, played on the piano and sung in public, as well as in the privacy of the home.

In the old days boys wanted to be President or the leading baseball pitcher. Today they want to be the leading swing musician.

A sure-fire remedy for insomnia today is to count dance band leaders jumping upon the old Scotch ballads.

Hotchas may come and go, but Beethoven goes on forever. Brahms, Chopin, Schubert and Schumann, with Tschaikowsky crowding them closely, Mozart, Haydn, Handel, Bach, Grieg, Liszt, Rubinstein, Wagner, Verdi, Rossini, Gounod, Bizet, Mendelssohn, Meyerbeer, Saint-Saens, Leoncavallo, Mascagni, Puccini, Leo Delibes, Offenbach, Rimsky-Korsakoff, Glinka, Moussorgsky, Borodin, Dvorak, Smetana, Sibelius, Grieg, Franck, Massenet, Lalo, Ravel, Debussy, Faure, Rameau, Couperin, Gluck, Lully, Cesar Franck, Rubinstein, Paderewski, Albeniz, Granados, Falla, Turina, Rimsky-Korsakoff, Glazounoff, Tchaikowsky, Rachmaninoff, Scriabine, Stravinsky, Prokofieff, Shostakovitch, Khatchaturian, Kabalevsky, Shaporin, Miaskovsky, Gliere, Shebalin, Myaskovsky

L S D—I have a home but it is so far from my work and I don't get to go there but a few times a month now and I want to know if I should sell it or rent it out? Tell me what to do as I am so fond of the place?

Ans: Rent it out. I don't favor your selling the place when there is a possibility of your getting married again and you will no doubt prefer to go out on this place to live. You can at least realize enough to keep up the taxes on the place.

B K—Am I thinking wrong about my husband and this woman? I have been thinking it for a long time but was not sure. And the man I have been seeing I am not satisfied to see him any more and I want to know if I should quit seeing him?

Ans: What are you two trying to do—play games to make one another jealous? Yes, it'd be to your advantage to give up this other party for you aren't getting any happiness out of this kind of life. Show your husband a little more affection and he will behave himself. Both of you are too old to start any of this foolishness.

L O H—I am now employed on a local job but I would like to try out for a better job in the city. Should I file the application?

Ans: Yes, indeed do it immediately. Take the trip into the city and file these applications. This is the only way that you can pull out of your present rut and get ahead—as soon as you get a better offer—take it.

C B O—I am going with a man and he says he loves me and he wants to marry me. Do you think I should marry him?

Ans: It will be several months before he is in a position to get married—if at that time you still feel that you are in love with this man—go ahead and get married.

M X C—I want to study and become a nurse but my aunt is trying to tell my mother to make me get a job. Do you think I could be a good nurse and am I suited for this work?

Ans: Make an effort to enter nurse training this fall as I feel you would make a very capable nurse. Your aunt doesn't realize that you want to prepare yourself to help out with the other children and you certainly could do more if you had a profession. Your mother will not allow her to influence her to any great extent.

Z Y O—I am a girl of 16 and the man that I love is married and has one child. No one knows about our courtship together. I am very much in love with him and he seems to think a great deal of me. Does he really care or is he pretending? He also says he is going to marry me if there is ever a chance. Will he?

Ans: No, he won't marry you. Neither does he want to give up his charming wife and baby for you. Stop this flirtation at once and don't let this man try to keep you fooled any longer. You can't hope to accomplish a thing in this world but a bad name by going with a married man and it is time you realized as much. By the way—his wife is jealous and she isn't going to take one thing from you or any other girl chasing around after her husband. There are several young single fellows who would love the chance to make your acquaintance—get out and meet more people.

Mrs. Marie Downing's
BEAUTY AND ROMANCE
SPONSORED BY LARIEUSE BEAUTY BUREAU

The Larieuse Beauty Bureau was established by the Godefroy Manufacturing Company to study methods of preserving women's natural beauty, and to make the results of this research available to the public.

You want the admiration of others, don't you? Then, use your head! Dull, dingy hair has a repelling influence on people. You yourself know that you don't turn your head and look a second time at someone whose hair is unkempt, discolored and drab-looking.

Despite the popular saying that "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" it is my belief that "Gentlemen Prefer Women" no matter what the color of their crowning glory—IF it is a color—one color—any color that is attractive.

Look at your hair in the front, on the back of your head, and during several strands, look underneath. Is it streaky and variegated, or is it pretty? Is it lovely because of its well-groomed appearance?

If you are disappointed in the way your hair looks, if the coloring does not suit you, apply an accredited coloring and see for yourself how much improved your appearance will be.

Don't be a stay-at-home, don't lose opportunities for happiness and romance, simply because you may have overlooked the appearance of your hair. It's so much a part of you but that is all the more reason for taking care of it—beautify your hair with regular treatment and a well-rounded diet.

The subject of proper foods for general health, as well as hair health, will be considered in a later column, so for the time being we shall think only about what daily routine will help to develop your hair so that you will be the envy of your friends, and the admiration of your masculine associates.

The small amount of effort expended in brushing your hair daily will pay handsome dividends. Use a strong bristled brush. Divide the hair into small sections (as if you were going to braid it) all over your head, and taking one part at a time, brush upward and outward with vigorous strokes. Keep this up until your scalp fairly tingles with life—you have already improved the circulation, and good circulation to the roots of your hair will result in stronger and healthier hair.

If your hair is dry, try oil treatments or shampoos. Keep out of the sun—on windy days, remember to wear some kind of covering on your head because the elements are hard on hair and render the problem of caring for the hair a most difficult one.

If your hair is oily, use egg shampoos to help brighten it, to bring out the sheen which is ordinarily hidden by the accumulation of oil from the scalp.

It is never good to scratch the head—instead, place your fingertips on your scalp and gently, but firmly, move the scalp backwards and forwards, and from side to side. This exercise has a stimulating effect and will reward you in hair beauty and health.

For the next several weeks, concentrate on your hair. It is a lot more beneficial to follow a few rules for beauty regularly, than to confuse the mind with many which, in the end, are forgotten because it is too hard to remember so much.

Don't go around envying others' beautiful hair when it is so easy to have beautiful hair yourself.

What are your beauty problems? Write Marie Downing, Larieuse Beauty Bureau, 3509 Lindell Blvd., St. Louis, Mo., and she will be glad to answer them. Be sure to enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope

REVIVAL AT NEWELL CHAPEL

Reverend M. J. Jones, pastor of Newell Chapel CME church preached two soul stirring sermons Sunday. The morning message was preached from the subject Unity. The minister brought out how necessary it was for a church to work in unity. The night subject was: The Lord Will Provide Text: My Son, God will Provide Himself a lamb for the burnt offering. Sunday began the first day of the revival.

The Rev. J. E. Davis of Crystal Springs arrived Monday to conduct a series of meetings at Newell Chapel CME church. The meeting started in a big way Monday night. The minister expounded very masterly from the subject. To Whom Shall We Go? The appreciative audience listened very attentively to the sermon. The outlook for the revival seems to be very favorable.

Mrs. Valley Cole is recuperating at her home on 10th Ave. and 19th Street from a lengthy illness.

Mrs. Lucy Berwster is also improving nicely from a short illness.
